

VOL. 10, NO. 166.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., WEDNESDAY EVEN'G., MAY 22, 1912.

EIGHT PAGES.

PESKY FIRE HOUSE
BOBS UP ONCE MORE*Council Sidetracks Councilman Brant's Plan for Quick Action.*CORRECT REVISION IS DESIRED*Members Not Content With Building Committee Chairman's Methods of Alteration—Volunteer Firemen are Elected—Other Business Finished.

Council's session last night was for the most part to the point and business promptly dispatched, with the possible exception of the fire house matter, which served as the back-ground for verbal fireworks on the part of Chairman Brant and Councilman Berg. Brant was anxious to have a motion passed to the effect that Council advertise for bids on the revised plans. The suggestion that the plans be revised by the architect and that bids be asked for the whole building, including the plumbing and heating, did not meet the approval of Chairman Brant.

Brant's resolution was that the plans and specifications for the new fire building be modified according to the resolution of May 7 and that bids be asked for before the next meeting night.

"This doesn't include the plumbing or heating," he added.

Solomon Lepley interposed with the suggestion that the contract be let to one party. Brant said that a cheaper bid could be secured if Council dealt direct with the plumber. He stated that the contractor would add a percentage if he had the whole contract.

Councilman McCormick wanted the bid to include everything and also added that the plans be brought to the Council chamber for the whole Council to see. He said he hadn't seen any plans of the building.

Borough Solicitor E. D. Munson put a stop to the argument with the information that until the amount due the Connellsville Construction Company for its work on the old building is paid, the letting of a new contract would be illegal and that the construction company could in that event go ahead with the work.

"He not been paid on account of finances," said President Allard.

Several Councilmen offered their ideas on the matter and Councilman Berg asked Brant:

"Can the committee do what the rest of the Council doesn't know about?"

"You must be ignorant," shouted Brant.

"I'm just as smart as you are," returned Berg. "Don't throw your ignorance at me."

"Well, you must be," said Brant.

"We've got to pay the Connellsville Construction Company," said Councilman Storer. "Gentle we are talking through our hats."

Although Brant seemed to think that the contract was already annulled the rest of the Council took a different view and Councilman Brown made a motion that the plans be drawn up by an architect and presented to Council before bids are asked. At that time Council will inspect the plans in a body. The motion carried. On motion of Storer, Andrew P. Cooper of Uniontown, who drew up the original plans, was appointed to revise them. Storer said he had the assurance that Mr. Cooper would not charge very much.

A number of complaints were received by Council mostly on the condition of streets. All were asked that the committee appointed to make a thorough inspection of the streets and sewer will do so some time this week.

H. George May appeared for E. L. Morietta, who has a lien entered against his property for the 1000 Fayette street paving that was never satisfied. The amount was paid to E. W. Bitter. It is claimed. It was referred to the Finance Committee.

John Kantler of Sixth street, West Side, appeared for residents of that section and said that there were no lights in that neighborhood and that it was also without fire protection. It was referred to the Light Committee.

S. S. Stahl complained of the condition of Guilford avenue. He said that it is a natural outlet for the water for two or three squares and that the heavy rains have washed the street.

"It is in a frightful condition. I have difficulty in renting some property there," he said.

He said that there had been talk of paving the street and that he was heartily in favor of it. Referring to the laying of pavement on Arch street in 1904, which was done by Council at Mr. Stahl's expense, he suggested that there be a man from Council selected who would act with Mr. Stahl and a disinterested party to go over the matter thoroughly. It was referred to the Street and Finance Committee.

Charles White threw down the gauntlet in the matter of being served a notice to connect his residence with a sewer. He wanted to be enlightened on the law on that point and urged Solicitor Munson to some length on whether or not he was a law. He wanted to know why he had been discriminated against, stating that there are other people on the street who have not been ordered to connect. Solicitor Munson stated.

Continued on Page Two.

CHARLES YARNELL CRAWLS
UNDER ENGINE AND IS KILLED*Baltimore & Ohio Brakeman From This Place Is Fatally Injured at Stoyestown.

Charles Yarnell, a B. & O. brakeman, was killed under an engine last night some time at Stoyestown. Yarnell ran out of Connellsville and left here Monday afternoon and was to return home this morning. His father, H. H. Yarnell of Wheeler, received word this morning of his death. Funeral Director J. B. Sims went to Stoyestown this morning to take charge of the body. No arrangements will be made for the funeral until the arrival of the body here.

Mr. Yarnell resided in South Connellsville until several months ago when with his wife and two children, Corbin Elizabeth and Lester George, he removed to Wheeler. His parents Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Yarnell have resided at Wheeler for the past twenty years. His father is a well known Civil War veteran. He married Miss Bessie Mickey. In addition to his widow, two children and parents he is survived by the sons, Robert, David, of Wheeler; Thomas, of Woodlawn, and one sister, Mrs. Ruth Hunter of Derry. He was well known among railroad men of the Connellsville division. He was 28 years old.

ROOSEVELT AND
HARMON WINNERS*Campaign Managers Today
Checking Up Extent of the Victories.*TAFT WILL GET TEN DELEGATES*From the Congressional Districts At-though Colonel's Manager's Do Not Concede This—Wilson Will Get Few Delegates Away From Harmon.

COLUMBUS, O., May 22.—With C. Roosevelt and Gov. Harmon winners in yesterday's Ohio primary, interest today centers in the final returns which will show the exact extent of their victory.

The Roosevelt managers today would not concede that Taft had carried more than three districts, the first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

Harmon carried the State in the Presidential preference vote. A plurality roughly estimated at 16,000 over Governor Wilson of New Jersey, but the latter appears to have captured a number of district delegates. Wilson's managers claim at least some with two other doubtful, first, second and third, but the chairman of the President will get one additional and possibly more. This will give Roosevelt a minimum of 22 and Taft a minimum of 10 district delegates.

BABY TAKES SUGAR COATED TABLETS;
THEY CONTAIN STRYCHNINE AND DEATH
RESULTS WITHIN SHORT TIME AFTERWARDS*Little Eva Marie Blacka, Aged 2 Years, Swallows Poisons—Father Discovers Distressing Accident Too Late to Prevent Fatal Consequences—Death Comes While Physician Is Trying to Save Life.

Swallowing practically the entire contents of a box of sugar coated tablets, Eva Marie Blacka, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blacka of this avenue died a short time afterwards this morning. The little girl found the box of tablets on a stand in the bedroom. Mr. Blacka, a brakeman employed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, had just returned from his run. He noticed that the child had been eating something and an instant later discovered that the box had been emptied of all but three or four of the slychistine pellets.

The child was taken to the office of Dr. J. D. Jackson on East Main street and antidotes were given, but all efforts to counteract the effect of the deadly poison proved futile. Dr. Jackson stated that the child was near death by the time it reached his office. The baby died about 20 minutes after it had been carried into Dr. Jackson's office.

The body was removed to the Mass avenue home by Funeral Director J. B. Foltz. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

JOHN MULLEN OF TROTTER MISSING*Under Care of Physician for Heart Trouble at Time of Disappearance.*FEAR HIS MIND IS AFFECTED

Last Seen on Peach Street a Week Ago Last Saturday—For Over 20 Years Was Employed by H. C. Fick Coke Company and Widely Known.

John Mullen, one of the oldest and most widely known residents of Trotter is strangely missing. Mr. Mullen has been under the care of a physician since last September for heart trouble. He also suffered from severe headaches and it is feared that his mind has become affected. Mr. Mullen left home a week ago Saturday and was last seen on Peach street, about 10 o'clock that night by William Huey, a friend of the Mullen family.

For over 20 years Mr. Mullen worked for the H. C. Fick Coke Company and of late had been employed repairing roads in Dunbar township. He is a man of about 60 years old, about five feet ten inches in height, having a heavy gray mustache. On leaving home he was attired in a dark blue suit and a dark overcoat. He was known by about every man, woman and child at Trotter and had a wide acquaintance throughout the coke region. The members of his family are worried over his strange disappearance. This afternoon Mrs. Mullen came to Connellsville and asked Chief of Police George Foster to look for him. He was never idle a day during his illness.

SUPREME COURT THIRCE SUSTAINS FAYETTE JURISTS*But in Case of John Keyes Against the West Penn. Lower Court Is Reversed.

United Press Telegram.
HARRISBURG, May 22.—The Supreme Court adjourned today to meet in Philadelphia July 2 to hand down opinions after granting an order to hear arguments in the "rail" case, railroad case at the October term of court in Pittsburgh both sides having made the request. Among the decision today was the following:

Ter Curran—By E. R. J. Isabel D. Curran vs. Joseph J. Egan, Fayette, affirmed; John Keyes vs. Dunbar Roadway Railway Company, Fayette, reversed; Von Mischelski vs. Comm. ex rel vs. N. E. Murphy, Fayette, affirmed; Mary 23, Friend vs. Dr. Arthur Raymond Kramer, Fayette, affirmed.

RESERVATIONS FOR CLASS PLAY ON SATURDAY MORNING

Students Are Now Selling Tickets, Which Can Be Exchanged at Theatre.

Principal Coughlin of the High School this morning announced that the seat sale for the Class Play, "In the Wrong Flat," to be given at the Solomon theatre on Tuesday evening, May 23, would be opened at the Solomon theatre Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Tickets are now being sold by the students at Thomas and Brown's and Griswold and Kiech's. The tickets can be exchanged at the theatre for reserved seats without extra charge. Fifty cents is the admission.

REQUEST OF IRON BRIDGE RESIDENTS IS DISALLOWED

Extension Not Made Because It Would Require Relocating of Over a Half Mile.

The request of residents living in the neighborhood of Iron Bridge on rural free delivery route No. 34 has been disallowed by the authorities at Washington. Postmaster A. B. Kurtz received word to this effect yesterday. The extension affects but a few families and would require the carrier to retrace over a half a mile of the same route.

It is also stated that the families live within reasonable proximity of the route now followed and that they can erect boxes there.

Generally fair tonight; showers in northern portion tonight or Thursday is the noon weather forecast.

The Temperature.
1912 1911
Maximum 88 81
Minimum 50 75
Mean 73

It's just about half day after another in the coke region just now. Old Sol has taken a fancy to this section with in the past week and has not left it since. Relief is in sight because tomorrow's forecast shows a day.

The first dropped from 3.70 to 3.50 feet over night.

WALTER T. M'CORMICK IS MUCH DESIRED MAN

West Penn. "Sees a Rise" and Former Manager Will Stay in Washington County.

Word has been received by the local office of the Tri-State Telephone Company that W. E. Wolfe's successor here will not be Walter T. McCormick, who recently resigned as manager here to take up a position with the West Penn. Telephone Company.

McCormick has only been with the electric light company for a short time but when the Tri-State made a proposition for his return, the electric company met it and the former manager will probably stay with the West Penn. Mr. Wolfe has received no word as to what place he will be transferred.

TITANIC HAS NO EFFECT ON TRAVEL SAYS DR. BAILE

Sailors on Saxonia Believe Ocean Disaster Was an Act of God and Do Not Believe Ship Unsinkable.

That the Titanic disaster has had no effect on ocean travel is the word received here by E. T. Norton in a letter from Dr. W. J. Bailey. Dr. and Mrs. Bailey have just reached the other side.

Dr. Bailey writes that the sailors on his ship, the Saxonia, do not believe that their ship is unsinkable and that they take every safety precaution in time of fog. He says that the Saxonia sailors believe that the disaster which came to the Titanic was an act of God.

BEGIN MANUFACTURE OF NEW COKE DRAWING MACHINE

New Apparatus Is Expected to Be an Improvement Over the Old.

The Connellsville Manufacturing & Mine Supply Company will soon begin the manufacture of a new type of coke pusher, leveller and conveyor, which is expected to be an improvement over the ones now in use.

With the new machines, the pusher, instead of being a telescope ram, will be a continuous one. The conveyor takes the coke out of the oven to the cars and the leveller levels the charges when the ovens are refilled.

Tubes Repaired by Thursday.
It is expected that the rusted tubes in the boilers of the Junction Coke work of the Marietta-Ganear Coke Company will have been repaired by next Thursday and that the plant can then resume in full. There are 10 ovens.

Forty Hours Devotion Ending.
The observance of forty hours' devotion by the congregation of the Immaculate Conception church came to a close this morning at 8.30 with mass and a procession by the children.

PROVAN, FORGER,
MAKES CONFESSION*Man Who Cashed Checks
Here Assumed Many
Aliases.*SENDS WORD TO HIS RELATIVES

Is Now in City Lockup Awaiting Trip to Uniontown—Had Five Assumed Names in Many Towns—Native of a Small New York State Village.

Confined in the city lockup waiting for officers to take him to Uniontown is W. K. Provan, self-confessed forger, who defaulted merchants of Connellsville and other places of amounts ranging from $10 to $110. Requests for him have been sent to the prisoner to friends in his little home town near Elmira, N. Y.

Before Justice of the Peace Doern yesterday Provan confessed to the two charges against him here, that of forging a check on a New York bank for $110, signed E. K. Eggers and presented at the Citizens National bank for payment, and one presented to E. W. Horner for $30. There was no need for any testimony as Provan confessed to the charge. E. W. Horner and J. L. Kurtz, cashier of the Citizens National bank, told of the forgery. A detective from the Burns agency told of Provan's wanderings and of his deal in other places.

According to the agency detective Provan has many aliases and worked them to good advantage. Incidentally he started operations near his home town in New York State. At Elmira he went under his right name, W. K. Provan. At another place he used the name of E. A. Davis. In Washington, D. C. he registered at two hotels under the name of E. A. Davis; Johnston knew him as Joseph L. Childs. At a Pittsburgh hotel he registered under the name of Joseph L. Childs. At another place he used the name of Joseph L. Childs. At another place he used the name of C. B. Dehm, Jr. At the Royal hotel here he went under the name of E. A. Davis.

It is said that Provan got away with other amounts than those for which he was arrested. But two informations have been made at this time before local justices of the peace. Provan is held under $1,000 bail. He expects to receive aid from friends and relatives in his home town.

NEGRO SUSPECT STILL HELD AT POLICE STATION

Forty-Eight Hours Limit Has About Expired—County Detective Will Notify Officers.

Following the non-appearance of County Detective J. J. Smith and the fact that no word was sent, Chief of Police Hazlet this morning called on the District Attorney for advice as to the disposition of the negro prisoner who was arrested here yesterday in connection with being implicated in the shooting of a foreigner at Youngstown early yesterday morning.

The District Attorney knew nothing of the case and the County Detective was out of town. The prisoner can not be held here tomorrow morning when the 48 hours since the arrest will be up.

A. A. DE LARME SAILS FOR EUROPE ON JUNE 13

Will Spend Two Months in the Holy Land During Summertime—Former Pastor Here.

A. A. DeLarme, formerly pastor of the Baptist church here but now at McKeesport, has been given, at two months vacation by his congregation. During that time he will go for a trip through Europe and the Holy Land.

Mr. DeLarme will sail from New York June 13th on the Saxonia, the same ship on which Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Bailey sailed. The first stop will be at Gibraltar. Mr. DeLarme was pastor of the local church prior to Mr. E. A. B. Palmquist's period of service.

Waive a Hearing
John and Mike Straton who were arrested by Constable William Roland of Dunbar township on a charge of assault and battery and aggravated assault, were arraigned last night before Judge F. M. Battenbush of the West Side. Five hundred dollars bail was furnished by each of the defendants, who waived a hearing.

Renner Is Master.
Attorney J. Kirk Renner has been appointed master to take testimony in the divorce case of W. C. Bishop against Cora B. Bishop.

Increase Tax Levy.
North Union township's School Board has increased the tax levy from $ to 10 mills.

SECRETARY HOAG STILL GETTING NICE NOTICES*They Are All About Poughkeepsie, However, and Connellsville Needs Boosting.

The Courier is in receipt of two interesting notices from the Poughkeepsie papers which reflect creditably upon the work of the Chamber of Commerce here, of which Henry Hoag was secretary until he resigned to accept the position in Connellsville.

Naturally the notices boost Poughkeepsie. One is an interview with Elbert Hubbard, who writes about the town now being inundated with that noble discontent which causes men to die at the top.

Those interested in the Chamber of Commerce are hoping that Secretary Hoag will report at the earliest date possible in order that the organization can make the spot on the map a bit more prominent.

His delay in coming has been disappointing in at least two respects. Neither the Cleveland nor the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce trade booming specialists are given official recognition by the lower ranking conductors of the organization, a fact that did not escape comment from both parties. By some it is feared that the good work accomplished by the membership campaign has been marred by failure to hammer hard while the iron of interest was hot.

BISHOP TAKES POT SHOT AT BURGLAR*Sends Four Bullets After Midnight Marauder, Who
Flees in Haste.*HAD PENCHANT FOR HARDWARE

Helped Himself to Tools in the Coal House But When He Took a Sove the South Side Councilman Became Fervid—Fortunate His Aim Bad.

Councilman W. A. Bishop last night put a check stop to the regular visit of thieves at his residence on the South Side when he poured four bullets from a revolver at the robber. For some time past someone has been paying regular visits to Mr. Bishop's coal house. Entrance was made by the coal hole and from $25 to $30 worth of tools had been taken.

Among the things that Mr. Bishop has missed within the past few weeks are a gas range, valued at about nine dollars and many small tools and a carpet which had been taken outside for spring cleaning. The carpet was valued at about ten dollars. It was missed yesterday.

When the thief came back Monday night to finish the job of cleaning out the coal house, Mr. Bishop was ready to hit him. About 11:30 the man stole across the yard and tried to get in at the coal hole. At that time, however, he had been nailed tight. It made no difference to the robber, however, and he immediately tried to remove the nails.

From an upstairs window Mr. Bishop got a good aim and fired four bullets. The visitor did not get up and make his escape. Fortunately for him, Mr. Bishop's aim was bad.

LONG DISTANCE EATING RECORDS SMASHED BY M'CABE

Eats 18 Buns, Four Square Meats, Mandarins and Complices of Empty Feeling.

Connellsville at last has a champion. Edward McCabe, in possession of a plan whereby the Titanic can be raised, has smashed the records of the eating contest by eating 18 buns, four square meats, mandarins and complices of empty feeling.

McCabe was arrested Monday and at the hearing Tuesday morning came to court a good deal hungry. He ate 18 buns and set out his journey to New York where he says he will communicate with the White Star line officials. He got as far as Arch street and he found he was hungry. Energetic soliciting along the street gave him four big meals with three or four handouts sandwiched between. He was again arrested and at the police hearing complained of being hungry. He got five days in a cell.

FIRST PASSENGER TRAIN OVER WESTERN MARYLAND

It Carries the Maryland Eagles to Convention at Frostburg Yesterday.

The first passenger train over the new Western Maryland railroad west of Cumberland was run yesterday when a special carried a delegation of Eagles from Baltimore, Hagerstown and Cumberland to Frostburg for the convention in session there.

The Maryland State convention of Eagles is having a royal good time at Frostburg and the Western Maryland is helping things along.

Renner Is Master.
Attorney J. Kirk Renner has been appointed master to take testimony in the divorce case of W. C. Bishop against Cora B. Bishop.

Increase Tax Levy.
North Union township's School Board has increased the tax levy from $ to 10 mills.

THE TRADE BOOMERS CONTINUE JOURNEY*Go Through Connellsville
Early This Morning on Way to Cumberland.*GET TWO BIG RECEPTIONS*Both Morgantown and Uniontown
Show Visitors "Good Time"—Dust
Might Thick at West Virginia City and Obscure the Pleasant View.

The Pittsburgh trade boomers went through Connellsville again this morning but there was no brass band to speed their journey to Cumberland. The big special, the largest that has yet been run, pulled into the yards soon being hauled over the mountains to Cumberland. The unofficial visit was paid at 4 A. M.

The Baltimore & Ohio is handling the special "on time" right off the jump. The schedule was not built for speed. The train pulled into McKeesport, West Newton, Connellsville and Uniontown right on the minute yesterday. Assistant General Passenger Agent J. P. Taggart of the B. & O. is in the party. While on the Connellsville division the special was accompanied by Superintendent C. L. French, Road Foreman of Engines T. E. Miller was in the cab while the train was running from the time it left Connellsville until it returned early this morning. The train was in charge of Conductor C. E. Lane, one of the best known passenger conductors on the road, a former Connellsville man. Mr. Lane started out of Pittsburgh with the boomers and did not leave them until Cumberland was reached today. Soon after Uniontown was reached, at 5 o'clock last evening, Conductor Lane, his brakemen, the engineers and firemen went to a hotel where they secured their required rest. They started the special out of Uniontown at 3:15 A. M.

After leaving Connellsville yesterday afternoon, the boomers went to Morgantown. They were met by a number of automobiles and escorted over town. Practically the hour's stay in Morgantown was consumed in this manner. The visit was, probably, lovely, but it could not be seen by those in the rear autos because of the dust. Apparently there has been no rain in Morgantown recently. The trip was enjoyable although it prevented many of the boomers from making the business calls scheduled for them.

Arriving at Uniontown at 5 o'clock, the boomers spent an hour visiting the business district. They returned to the car for supper and between 7:30 and 8 o'clock were escorted by the best of the local police, the Semans, a concert and musical performance in the gardens featured this gathering. Burgess E. S. McCrum delivered an address of welcome which was responded to by President W. L. Stevenson, the new live-wire President of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. Other speeches were made during the evening and a splendid reception was accorded the visitors by Mr. Semans. The special affair was a smoker, and the smokers were on the host.

Returning to the train interest centered on the election returns. Both the Western Union and the Pot telephone companies furnished the bulletins until midnight. When supper was served the boomers found the baseball scores posted in the two dining cars. The first day to the surprise of Sup't. A. C. Terry of the Western Union. Mr. Terry and W. W. Kelsor are veterans of the trade specialists. Kelsor, old time operator, makes two claims to distinction; that he knows more newspaper men than anyone else and is the only man on the special entitled to lead in that beautiful ballad entitled "Old King Cole."

Telephone service to Pittsburgh was established at each point the train stopped immediately upon arrival.

The busiest man on the train was Theodore Lampert, publicity agent of the Chamber of Commerce. After having worked up the preliminaries and secured a generous allotment of advance space from newspapers in towns to be visited, "Pop" constituted himself a committee of one to keep Photographer E. W. Johnson on the job with the press pictures. "Pop" caught the first batch yesterday just in time to throw them off at Uniontown, to be mailed into Pittsburgh. He has other multitudinous duties.

SOCIETY.

Missionary Meeting.

The Women's Missionary Circle of the First Baptist church will meet this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the church. The meeting is one of importance and a large attendance is desired. The campaign contest committee is requested to report.

Afternoon Tea.

Miss Beese Kist of Dawson, a bride-elect, is honor guest at a tea at which Mrs. Clifford J. Scott is hostess this afternoon at her home in Uniontown. Delightful Dance.

About thirty-five couples were present at a delightful dance given last evening in the hall by the married folks club. Music was furnished by Kiefer's orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Moore and Harry McDonald of Dawson were out of town guests present.

Annual Meeting.

The regular annual meeting of the Conneltsville High School Alumni will be held Tuesday evening, June 4, at the High School at 8 o'clock.

At the regular meeting of the King's Daughters of the City Lutheran church held last evening at the home of Mrs. H. C. Chabouch on Chestnut street officers for the ensuing year were nominated. The election will take place at the next regular meeting. A social hour and refreshments followed.

"Get Acquainted" Social.

The W. O. C. Class of the United Brethren church held a "Get Acquainted" social at the home of Mr. Porter Richey on the West Side. A luncheon at 4 o'clock was served.

Benefit Recital.

A large audience attended a recital given last evening in the Christian church by Miss Jessie Rhodes, assisted by E. D. Fuller, vocalist, and Alfred L. Steiner, pianist. The audience was appreciative and the able work of the performers was well received. Addresses were delivered by Rev. J. L. Proudt and Captain Ramford. The affair was given for the benefit of the Salvation Army and a nice sum was realized from a silver offering taken at the close of the program.

Delightful Surprise Party.

The residence of J. H. Vannest on Cummings avenue was the scene of a delightful surprise party last Saturday evening. The affair was in honor of the twenty-sixth birthday anniversary of Mr. Vannest. The various apartments on the first floor were attractive in sweet peas and ferns. Music and various games were the amusements until 11:30 o'clock when luncheon was served. The house guest was the recipient of a number of presents. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Ornduff of Chambersburg, W. Va.; Mrs. G. W. Vannest of Ohio; J. E. Arson of Smithfield, O.; Frank Stauffer of Pennsylvania; Claude Alderson and Adam Young of Wheeler.

Bible Officers.

Officers of Miss Orpha Stillwagon's class at the Methodist Protestant church were elected for the ensuing year at a meeting held last night at the church. They are: President, Harold H. Hallett; Secretary, Miss Rose Lehigh; Vice President, Miss Vergie Herbert; Treasurer, Miss Anna Handford. The class will meet the last Tuesday of every month.

McCune-Russell.

Announcement has been made of the wedding of Miss Ethel Fern McCune and Alexander Russell, both of McKeesport. The wedding was solemnized Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Canzoy in Jenny Lind street. McKeesport. Rev. Robert H. Kirk, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Kinley McMillan, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church officiated. The bride has paid frequent visits to Conneltsville and has a number of friends here. Among the out of town guests were Miss Helen Patterson and Miss Mary Parkhill of Conneltsville. Dance and Social.

Members of the Douglas Business College are arranging for a social and dance to be held at 237 North Pittsburgh street. Miss Marie McGuire is hostess.

Commencement Dance.

Invitations have been received here for the annual commencement dance of the Blairsville College to be held Wednesday evening, June 5.

LIVE TO BE 100

Millions Die of Kidney Disease: Tens of Thousands Have It Right Now and Never Suspect It.

The surest and wisest plan to always keep the kidneys healthy and free from poisonous matter that leads to Bright's disease, dropsy and other serious diseases is to take a few doses of Thompson's Kidney Pills every three months.

It is a harmless vegetable remedy put out in liquid form, is quickly assimilated and acts on the kidneys at once. If your kidneys are weak, inflamed or clogged up, Thompson's Kidney Pills will put them in splendid shape again. If they are not diseased, this greatest of all kidney remedies will tone up your system anyway. Graham & Company, Conneltsville, and S. A. Lowe & Company, Scottsdale, sell Thompson's Kidney Pills for 50 cents and $1 a bottle on money back plan. It never fails to cure backache, rheumatism, sharp shooting pains and all kidney, liver or bladder diseases. In conjunction with Eucalyptus always take Thompson's Dandelion and Mistletoe Pills (25 cents) when constipation is present. Thompson Medical Co., Pittsfield, Pa.

TO ELECT 8 TEACHERS.

Many Applications For Positions in Conneltsville Township.

Many applications have been received by the Conneltsville township School Board for the eight teaching positions now vacant. A special meeting of the Board on next Tuesday has been called for this purpose.

No other business will be transacted.

Is Operated On.

Mrs. Oliver Bailey of Saylortown who has been suffering from an abscess underwent an operation this morning.

EPWORTH LEAGUE OF THIS DISTRICT WILL MEET HERE

Program For Gathering on June 3 and 6 Is Practically Complete Now.

Practically all arrangements have been completed for the annual convention of the McKeesport District of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church to be held in Conneltsville in the Methodist Episcopal church, Wednesday and Thursday, June 5 and 6. Over 100 delegates will be present and will be entertained over night at the homes of the different members of the church. Lunch will be served in the church.

It is probable that automobiles will be used in conveying to delegates from the train to the places where they will make their headquarters while in town. The younger boys from the church will act as pilots. There will be three sessions each day and on the closing day the annual election of officers will take place.

The speaker for Wednesday evening is Rev. D. L. Marsh, pastor of the Southwestern Methodist Episcopal church. A social will be held at the close of his talk. William Hall of Confluence, Fourth Vice President of the District, and president of the Confluence League will be in charge. Braddock, McKeesport, West Newton, Evansburg, Pleasant, Scottsdale, Dunbar and Conneltsville are among the fifty-six Leagues in the District.

At a meeting of the cabinet last evening at the home of Miss Carrie Keston in Sixth street, West Side committee were appointed. Miss Hirdella Miller is chairman of the socializing committee, Joseph Buttermore is chairman of the decorating committee.

The program is as follows: Opening session, address of welcome, Editor Horner; response, Rev. R. S. Steers, McKeesport; President's address, "Why are we here?" Rev. G. A. Allison, McKeesport.

Afternoon session, 1:30, devotional exercises, Rev. Hoover of Confluence, address, "Christian Stewardship." Rev. H. D. Whitfield, Greensburg; Third Department Conference, Rev. Wagner, Pittsburg; Second Department Conference, Miss Carrie Keston, Conneltsville; "Coke Mission." Miss Elizabeth S. Davis, Uniontown; assignment of delegates.

Evening session, 7:30, devotional. Theodore Hocky, Scottsdale; address, "The Highway to Success." Rev. D. L. Marsh, Sealeckley, morning watch, 11:30, Archibald Auld, Uniontown.

Thursday's session, 8:40 a. m. devotional, H. D. Whitfield, Braddock; address, "New Social Ideal." Rev. J. W. Hoffman, Crafton, Pa.; First Department Conference, Edna Koenig, Braddock.

Afternoon session, devotional, Rev. Noel Meyer, Braddock; address, "The New Social Ideal." Rev. H. S. Piper, Scottsdale; "Junior League." Mrs. R. C. Wolf, Conneltsville.

Evening session, devotional, Claude Towner, Monongahela, Pa.; address, "Junior League." Dr. Westfall will speak on "The final aim of all league work."

Try our classified advertisements.

50 Persons

Will Make $20.00 Each

Writing Jingles

In May, 1912, we will buy 50 good jingles, suitable for a Post Toasties Jingle Book.

You may get $20.00 for writing an original jingle or for filling in the missing line of the incomplete jingle in the coupon. A fine way to have some fun.

A COMPLETE JINGLE.

(As an example only)

Please days are coming, goodness what a treat,
Fill up all the baskets; lots of stuff to eat,
Never mind the cake and jam, never mind the tea,
Plenty of Post Toasties—that's good enough for me.

Sign here—

Name

Street and No.

City

State

Use of above form of answer is suggested, but not required.

Address and mail your Jingles to

Jingle Dept. 259 POSTUM CEREAL CO., LTD., BATTLE CREEK, MICHIGAN

Jingles accepted for our book, will be bought and paid for at $20.00 each.

Only the Jingles we pay for will be used.

There will be 50 Jingles purchased, and the names and addresses of the writers will be printed and mailed to every enquirer who sends us a 1c stamped and addressed envelope for return.

The Jingles will be judged honestly upon merit so if you are a sensitive person and not a good sportsman, don't try, for we have no time to "put up" those whose Jingles are not accepted.

This is an opportunity to make some extra money, and, in addition, become acquainted with —the delicious bits of toasted Indian Corn.

Post Toasties

Try some of this crisp food with cream and sugar. It is not easily forgotten.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

PESKY FIRE HOUSE BOBS UP ONCE MORE

Continued from Page One.

that it was a matter of public health and that any person refusing to obey the notice would be compelled to. We also wanted to know why Church Place had been raised so that water ran down in some of its property.

Attorney S. R. Goldsmith appeared for John De Temple who wanted to pay the original amount due a street paving lien $223.40. Solicitor Munson asked for the original amount and when the check was handed him, returned it because it did not include the interest. Attorney Goldsmith wanted the borough to settle for the original amount. It was referred to the finance committee.

Alvin Cochran, of Eighth street and Arnold Blaney of Eighth street, West Side, asked Council to take action in regard to the fill of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie. The fill, they said, has changed the topography of the land and the two properties have been lowered beneath the street. Water also backs up in their sewer.

James Couey appeared in behalf of residents of Fairview avenue in regard to surface water running down the street and was assured that the matter would be looked after.

The second reading of the blanket paving ordinance came up but was deferred because it was not in shape. The contract for paving Church place was awarded to O'Connor and Madigan. That firm was the only bidder. The bid was for grading, 66 cents a cubic yard; and for paving with hill-side block, $1.55 a square yard.

The following names were handed in by John Chas. J. Haddock for membership in the reorganized East Side Volunteer fire department, J. F. Collins, Homer Moser, Henry Wilson, Ralph Morton, John Stillwagon, William Conroy, Ralph McCormick, O. R. Blackburn and Fred Burnhart.

The names were accepted and the new members will be sworn in by the Burgess. They will meet at an early date and organize.

The Sewer Committee recommended a short sewer on Morton avenue consisting of 235 linear feet, the estimated cost to be $150. Another sewer on Race street, between Patterson and Newmyer avenues, was recommended. It is 238 feet long and will be constructed with 24-inch pipe. The estimated cost is $668.20. Assistant Borough Engineer Hirst suggested that a carload of pipe be bought to save expenses. Hirst wanted it held over for an investigation. On motion of Decker it was voted to do the work by the day.

John T. Hetzel asked information as to people on the West Side hill who wanted to tap the sewer there before the paving began. The list of names will be given to Health Officer Rollier and they will be notified. On motion of Keener the G. A. R. was given a flag. The borough clerk will purchase it.

YOUNG BOY DEAD.

Samuel White, Jr., Succumbs After a Brief Illness.

Samuel White, Jr., aged four years, son of Samuel and Margaret White, former residents of Conneltsville, died yesterday morning at the family residence in Glassport following a brief illness. He was taken ill on Sunday morning and died about 7 o'clock the following morning.

The body was brought to Conneltsville this morning and was removed by Funeral Director J. J. Sims to the residence of Mrs. Thomas Gregg, No. 304 North Pittsburg street, from which place the funeral will take place. Deceased was a grandson of Mrs. Gregg.

The funeral will take place from the Gregg residence tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Appoints Trustees.

Governor John K. Tener has appointed Colonel Thomas S. Crago of Westmoreland and J. A. Beckley of Somerset, trustees of the California State Normal School.

Cureno Was Buried.

Peter Cureno, aged 37 years, a laborer at the B. & O. round house is at the Cottage State hospital for slight burns of the neck as the result of an accident with which he met.

Goes for Operation.

Mrs. E. P. Albright, who was removed to the Mercy hospital, Pittsburg, last Saturday will be operated on either tomorrow or Friday.

Classified ads one cent a word.

PERSONAL.

Leroy Miller, who has been suffering from a carbuncle, has returned to New Kensington where he is employed.

Mrs. S. J. Brown of Aven Park, Pa., is a guest at the home of her brother, P. J. Sauter on Washington avenue.

Dr. Jesse Hallett of Vanderhill, was in town this morning on business. Mrs. Mary Treavor of Johnstown, who was called here by the death of her nephew, James Ray, returned home this morning.

Miss Helen Jones of Ohio, was calling on friends here yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson and daughter, Mrs. Charles Baer and baby who have been located in Brownsville, Texas, have returned to Conneltsville to reside.

The largest line of pure woolens ever shown outside of the biggest cities. Dave Cohen, Tailor.

William Percy, an employee of the Tri-State Candy Company, is off duty on account of a sore hand.

Shady Grove opens Saturday, May 25.

Messes Rose and Alice Donegan and Miss Margaret Fagan are in Pittsburg today.

Jobs Frazer, of Conestoga, Pa., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ford of Greenwood.

To loan money on a definite plan, pay 5% on full-paid stock, issue installment stock, are 22 years in business, have assets of $100,000.00 and are the best in the county. The Peoples Building & Loan Association, Alex. B. Hood, Secretary, at Second National Bank.

Mrs. August Stickle and two children are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis Showalter, of Uniontown.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Anderson were calling on Uniontown friends last evening.

Features of the opening game of the Conneltsville-McKeesport Clubs will be shown at the Solheim theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 23, 24 and 25, afternoon and night. Admission always 5 cents.

Mrs. Anna Humbert was a Uniontown visitor yesterday.

A. E. Arson, Union Supply store manager at Leisensville No. 1, was in Uniontown yesterday on business.

Use Muller's Vacuum Cleaner. Miss Elizabeth O'Hara and Miss Mary Gillen were visitors in Uniontown yesterday.

Miss Anna Kobacker returned home yesterday from a visit in Pittsburg.

One-fourth off on all early spring hats, including imported and eastern models. McFarland's, 111 W. Apple street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Shelton and son of South Brownsville, have returned home, after a several days' visit with Mrs. Charles Jones.

Miss Anna Cummings spent yesterday in Pittsburg as the guest of her brother, Jack Cummings of the Barkley & Cummings pharmacy.

Mrs. C. B. Lane of Pittsburg, is visiting friends in town today.

Hert Chalfant is in McKeesport today on business.

Miss Kathryn Porter is the guest of friends in Pittsburg today.

Misses Margaret and Lila Carson of Layton, are Conneltsville visitors today.

GO TO EUROPE.

You Can Take a Fine Trip for a Very Moderate Sum.

Perhaps you have always considered a European trip beyond your means, but you may change your mind when you see the splendid Personally Conducted Tours of Europe, at $150 up, offered by the Foreign Department of the First National Bank. You can go to Europe almost as cheaply as you can take a trip anywhere else, you will know in advance just what the trip will cost and you will have no worry about tickets, trains, etc.

An expert guide attends to all details. Call at 127 W. Main street for full information.

Wedding on Wednesday.

The marriage of Miss Anabelle Millard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Millard, and Harry Lutterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, Lutterman, of Dawson, will be solemnized Wednesday evening, May 23 at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride-elect on Trevor street. Miss Millard has chosen her sister, Miss Helen Millard, as maid of honor. W. W. Parkinson, of Old Concord, will serve as best man. Rev. E. B. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, of which the bride-elect is a member, will officiate. Only the members of the two families will witness the ceremony.

What Makes the Difference?

The difference between the salaried man who spends all of his income and the clerk who saves a part of his money will appear very striking during a period of say ten years. The salaried man may be looking for a job, but the clerk may be the owner of his own business. This difference is brought about by conscientious careful saving. This bank invites your savings account, whether large or small, and assures you every courtesy and attention. The Citizens National Bank of Conneltsville, 138 Pittsburg street.

Is Operated On.

Samuel Hurey, son of Contractor and Mrs. E. J. Hurey of the South Side, was operated on for a mastoid abscess last night at the Cottage State hospital.

What You Want

How You Want It

When You Want It

For anything in the line of printing come to us and we'll guarantee you satisfactory work at prices that are right

Leche's

106 W. Main Street
Connellsville, Pa.

Number 5 Silk Taffeta Ribbons, all wanted colors special at..... 5c

No. 12, 16 Silk Taffeta Ribbons in all plain shades, Regular 12 1/2 and 15c Ribbons, sale price.... 10c

No. 7 and No. 9 Silk Taffeta Ribbons, all shades, Special sale price..... 7c

The Best Quality of 25c Silk Taffeta Ribbon 4 1/4 inches wide, in Blue, White and Pink. Sale Price..... 18c

Galatea Cloth Excellent quality for Boys Suits at 15c and..... 12c

Bleached Canton Special Offering of 12 1/2 Bleached Canton at..... 11c

Extra Announcement Taffeta Silk Ribbons In Blue, Brown, Navy, White and Pink, 3 and 4 inches wide. The kind that always sells at 10c, Special at..... 9c

No. 60 Silk Taffeta Ribbons In Red, Blue, Pink and White. The kind that always sells at 15c. Sale Price..... 11c

Wide Person and Flowered Ribbons. 45c Ribbons. Sale Price..... 35c

No. 80 Silk Taffeta-Ribbons. In red and blue, four inches wide. Regular 19c ribbon, sale price.... 15c

The Latest Thing in Stoves

For a midnight supper, as for any other meal at any other time, the very latest thing in stoves—the best that stove-artists can do—is a

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

THE ATLANTIC REFINING COMPANY

753 The Bourse, Philadelphia 424 Sixth Ave., Pittsburgh

The Power Behind the Throne

If we please my lady, that is sufficient. If we make a suit which meets with her entire approval, we have done a good job. She notices things a man will never think of—she knows where slights may be made without their being apparent to the casual observer.

We aim to please a man's wife as much as we do to please him. If we didn't succeed, we couldn't have the patronage we have. If we hadn't that, we couldn't make these prices—to suit your purse. This is the time and place to have your suit tailor made.

$20.00 and up

I Am Yours for a Fine Tailor Made Suit.

Open Evenings.

H. J. BOSLET,

MEN AND GENTLEWOMEN'S TAILOR,

122 South Pittsburg St., Connellsville, Pa.

IF YOU WANT

Anything, Have Anything for Sale or Rent, Try Our Classified Ads at One Cent a Word. They Bring the Results.

News From Nearby Towns.

Confluence.

CONFLUENCE, May 22.—Bruce Dold was calling on friends in Confluence Sunday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Griffith of Ursula, were in town a short time yesterday on their return home from having spent several days in Rockwood.

Mrs. Alvin Burnworth is spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Watson and Mrs. James Tremblay in Confluence.

Mrs. F. C. Rose of Confluence, is the guest of her brother, John I. Davis and family for a few days.

Harry Lawver made a business trip to Confluence one day this week.

Harry Fowler of Confluence, was in town on business Monday.

Earl Hartley of Meyersdale, was in town on business Monday.

Curtis S. Howlin died after a short illness at the Confluence hotel yesterday morning. Mr. Howlin is about 45 years old and is well known about Confluence, being born and reared near here. He is survived by one brother, Samuel Howlin of town. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

James Wilkins of Addison, was a business caller in town one day this week.

Mrs. John Bird of Addison, was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. T. R. Edgar on Monday.

P. V. Nedrow of Somerset, was a business caller in town.

A. W. Johnson of Philadelphia, spent several days recently at the Dodds House.

S. R. Hoamer of Pittsburg, was the guest of Miss Ruth Bowers several days recently.

Miss Charlotte Johnson spent Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Johnson in Ohio.

Mrs. M. C. Dodds has returned home, after having spent several weeks visiting friends in Meyersdale.

Howard Lawver of Confluence, was in town on business yesterday.

Mrs. Pauline Black, a very popular music teacher of town, has organized music classes in Ohio and Ursula.

A. C. Bicher of Port Hill, was in town on business yesterday.

Smithfield.

SMITHFIELD, May 22.—Martin Hope of Morris Cross Roads is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Elmer Sutton.

C. O. Bosley and E. S. Brooks took in the show boat at Point Marion Monday night. E. L. Downey and son Clark also took a party up in their automobile.

D. R. Griffith of Uniontown, was a business visitor Monday.

Prospective applicants for pension under the Act of May 11, 1912, will be furnished a blank entitling the requirements under the act by calling on H. O'Neil, adjutant of Jerry Jones Post G. A. R.

L. D. Ramsey of Baxter's Ridge, was a business visitor Monday evening.

Joseph Gans and family of Morris Cross Roads passed through in their touring car Monday. One of the young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gans was driving the car at about a 25-mile clip.

Joseph Smith took a drummer over to Waynesburg in his Buick car Monday evening.

C. R. Breckenridge, of the West Penn Electric Company, was in the borough Tuesday installing meters for Mr. Smith in the Feather building.

The meters will furnish the power to run the sewing machines in Mr. Smith's glove factory.

Dr. C. W. Richards of Fairbance, was a business visitor Tuesday.

Jerry Lamm of Harrisburg, Pa., was in the borough Tuesday.

Jesse H. Stewart from out R. F. D. Route No. 3, was in the borough on Tuesday making application for pension under the Act of May 11, 1912.

He served 10 months in Company F, 17th West Virginia Infantry. The new law will increase him from $12 to $15.50 per month.

Mt. Pleasant.

MT. PLEASANT, May 22.—Owing to a recent special meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Aid the regular meeting will not be held until next Tuesday, May 28.

A rehearsal of the Ruth-Pax wedding was held last evening at the Lora Park home of the bride-elect, Miss Nettie Pax. The wedding will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine B. Goldsmith are the proud parents of a daughter left by the stork yesterday.

Dr. H. M. Lutz held a class meeting at his College avenue home last evening. His class has decided to have another in the fall of next Tuesday.

William Reuslin was a Pittsburg caller yesterday.

Rev. Lortner, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, is putting forth a special effort to get an extra car for the use of persons who wish to attend the evangelistic services at Greensburg. A number of people have already expressed a desire of going and are looking forward to it.

Miss Martha Shirley of Scottsdale was the guest of the Misses Henderson of Vint street.

Harry Shields of Indiana, Pa., was a caller in town yesterday.

Messrs M. E. and L. M. McLean of Philadelphia, formerly of this place, were guests at the National Hotel yesterday.

Mrs. W. W. Lowthers and Mrs. Charles Nelson were Greensburg callers yesterday.

W. H. Wyckoff of Harrisburg, was a business caller in town yesterday.

Benjamin Lebowitz of Uniontown, was a caller in town yesterday.

Dickerson Run.

DICKERSON RUN, May 22.—Wm. Evans was a business caller at Confluence yesterday.

Engineer W. A. Wood and J. E. Montgomery were business callers at Pittsburg Monday.

Mrs. Conrad Snyder was shopping and calling on Confluence friends yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright have returned to their home at Monessen, after a very pleasant visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wright of Bridge street, Dawson.

Shady Grove opens Saturday, May 25.

Mrs. A. N. Lint is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lint at Dawson this week.

Louis Costa has moved his family here from Ohio.

Pictures of the opening game of the Confluence-McKeesport Clubs will be shown at the Soloson theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 23, 24 and 25, afternoon and night. Admission always 5 cents.

P. G. Smith was a business caller at Confluence yesterday.

P. R. Matus was at Confluence Tuesday morning, and visited his brother-in-law, Joe Tober, who is a patient at the Cottage State hospital. Joe received injuries at Tolsoning yesterday by being caught by a fall of slats.

Robert McBurney was transacting business at Confluence yesterday morning.

Vanderbilt.

VANDERBILT, May 22.—L. L. Dawson, the plumber, was transacting business at Dickerson Run Tuesday evening.

Pictures of the opening game of the Confluence-McKeesport Clubs will be shown at the Soloson theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 23, 24 and 25, afternoon and night. Admission always 5 cents.

Mrs. Edward Lewis and Mrs. McLaughlin of Liberty, were calling on friends here yesterday evening.

Shady Grove opens Saturday, May 25.

Policeman J. T. Beatty was a Dawson business caller Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. John E. Farmer has returned to her home at Wellsville, O., after a very pleasant visit here with relatives and friends.

Rev. William Marshall was calling on Dickerson Run friends Tuesday.

J. H. Barrieklow, the liverman, is holding a sale at his livery barn tomorrow and no doubt many bargains will be picked up by many who are in attendance.

Robert Meyer of Liberty, was calling on friends here yesterday evening.

Mrs. Lena Moore of Preston county, W. Va., is spending a few days here visiting relatives and friends.

A. C. Sherrard was a Dawson business caller Tuesday evening.

Harry Rush of Dawson, was circulating among friends here last evening.

S. E. Porter, the druggist, was a Dawson business caller yesterday evening.

Ohio.

OHIO, May 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCartney and son, of McKeesport, are making a few days visit with Ohio relatives.

Mrs. Annie Schunk of Pittsburg, is spending a few days on a visit with Ohio relatives.

Miss Lila Nicholson returned to her home here Tuesday evening after having spent the last few weeks with relatives at Uniontown.

Mrs. Ruth Barron of Indiana Harbor, Ind., who has for the past week been visiting with relatives near here, returned to Ohio Tuesday for a short visit before returning home.

William Gifferty was calling on friends and transacting business matters in Confluence Monday.

Mrs. James O'Brien was visiting with Ohio friends Monday.

Jacob Stull was transacting business matters in town yesterday.

Mrs. Belle Churen is spending a few days visiting with Ohio relatives.

Miss Clara Johnson of Confluence, returned to Ohio Monday to visit with her parents.

Miss Kelly of Solysport, Md., is visiting with her brother and family Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kelly.

The Ohio baseball club will give a lawn fête Saturday evening for the benefit of the club on the school house lawn. The team is composed of home talent.

Star Junction.

STAR JUNCTION, May 22.—J. B. Knox was a business caller in Pittsburg yesterday.

Miss Helen Jones was shopping in Pittsburg yesterday.

Miss Jeannette Shaw was calling on friends in Confluence yesterday.

Orlan Carson is a business caller at Dawson.

Garrett Thorndell is visiting at Dawson.

Clyde Atkins is in Dawson.

Patronize those who advertise.

Less Waste

and

More Power

Grape-Nuts

is a concentrated food, rich in brain and flesh building nourishment, easily digested and quickly utilized for the body's needs.

More and more people use GRAPE-NUTS every day.

"There's a Reason"

Postum Cereal Company, Limited
Battle Creek, Mich.

TONA VITA BUILDS UP RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

Physicians Have Great Success With Tonic in This Country.

When people of wealth become debilitated and run down in health they go to high priced sanitariums and health resorts to be built up again. But what about the thousands of debilitated nervous men and women with no vitality or ambition who have neither the time nor money to spare for such luxuries as sanitariums? If you are in this miserable condition read with care the following statement by Dr. F. Mann, living at 53 Good Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have had indigestion and been all run down for ten years. I couldn't eat anything at times and was always constipated. My nerves were out of order and I had had headaches. I had lost my kidney trouble, too, as I had dull pains in my back much of the time. I was easily excited and often when I couldn't eat and had a nervous attack I would suffer severe dizzy spells.

"I heard so much about the new tonic, 'Tona Vita' that I decided to give it a trial and I feel like a different man. I am strong in every way. I sleep well, can eat anything and my nerves are as steady as can be. I have gained four pounds in the last ten days. I believe 'Tona Vita' is the best medicine on earth."

"Tona Vita" was introduced in this country by a number of physicians scarcely a year ago. The tonic has proved the biggest success of any medicine ever before sold to the public.

If you are debilitated and run down don't allow this miserable condition to last a day longer. Let Tona-Vita build you up and being back your health. If it fails your money will be returned by our agent in your city.

A. A. Clarke is the agent for Tona Vita in Confluence. The Approved Formula Company, Dayton, Ohio.

When the Texas is Ready for Active Service United States Will Have the Biggest Battleship.

Norfolk, Va., May, 22.—When the ten fourteen-inch guns and the other weapons of defense are put in place and the battleship Texas is turned over to the United States Uncle Sam will have the biggest and most formidable fighting craft afloat. She will not be the fastest, but she must develop a speed of twenty-one knots an hour. Little Miss Claudia Lyons, the daughter of Cecil Lyons, Republican national, committeeman from Texas, not only christened the vessel, but she pulled the trigger that released the huge hull and permitted it to slide down the ways into the water.

Dawson.

DAWSON, May 22.—Howard Marks and William Allen, members of the Sharon baseball team of the O. & P. League, were calling on friends here last evening.

Pictures of the opening game of the Confluence-McKeesport Clubs will be shown at the Soloson theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 23, 24 and 25, afternoon and night. Admission always 5 cents.

Mr. Fotters of Scottsdale, was calling here last evening.

Shady Grove opens Saturday, May 25.

Miss Florence Kuhn was a Confluence caller yesterday.

E. E. Evans is a Pittsburg business caller today.

Mrs. John Short is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Port at Confluence today.

Miss Eva Wright was a Confluence caller yesterday.

Misses Margaret Rush, Sam V. Price and Mrs. E. Evans witnessed the baseball game at Confluence yesterday.

H. C. Rush was a Confluence caller yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Collins was calling on friends here last evening.

Charles Slicko has accepted a position with the Confluence garage. Hewitt Edmundson is in Uniontown today.

O. Carson of Star Junction was calling on friends here last evening.

Mr. Richter was a Confluence caller yesterday.

H. M. McDonald was a business caller in Confluence yesterday.

Perryopolis.

PERRYOPOLIS, May 22.—Miss Mollie Fretts was a caller to Pittsburg yesterday.

Big show at Pioneer Theatre Wednesday, "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

See good pictures. Running continuously from 6:30 P. M. to 10 P. M. Admission 10 cents.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wilkes, a baby girl on Tuesday.

C. T. Davidson and family were calling at the Young metropolis yesterday.

James Hopkins and Louis Martin are riding now wheels.

Class night exercises will take place this evening at the Auditorium. Patronize those who advertise in The Daily Courier.

A. A. CLARKE GUARANTEES RHEUMA FOR RHEUMATISM

What chance does any sufferer take when RHEUMA is guaranteed to banish rheumatism, dumbage, gout and kidney ailments, or money back?

Why not investigate this offer, talk to A. A. Clarke about it. RHEUMA surely does drive rheumatic poison from the system, brings swollen joints back to normal and relieves agony in two days.

People so crippled with rheumatism that they could not walk have been absolutely cured from the grasp of the demon, rheumatism, with less than half a dozen 50-cent bottles.

A few hours after the first dose, RHEUMA begins to dissolve the uric acid, drive it through the body through the natural channels.

Everybody can afford RHEUMA—the price is only 50 cents a bottle, and the dose is small.

MRS. THOMAS' FUNERAL

Will Be Held Friday Afternoon, Near Broad Ford.

OWENSDALE, May 22.—The body of the late Mrs. Maude Thomas, wife of Andrew W. Thomas, who died at her home at Confluence No. 1 yesterday morning following several weeks' illness of typhoid fever, was brought to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Orbin of Dry Hill, last evening. Mr. Thomas was a member of last year's Morgan team and his wife followed in death Mrs. Ray Klingensmith, wife of another Morgan player by just ten days.

Mrs. Thomas was formerly a member of the Micky Square Methodist Protestant church and of the Morgan Union Sunday School, going from these churches to the First Methodist Protestant church at Uniontown and was a devoted and earnest Christian worker.

The funeral services will be held at the Orbin home on the Broad Ford road at Dry Hill Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Ivan Wilson of the Uniontown First Methodist Protestant church and Rev. Strum of Confluence, will officiate. Interment will be made in the Cochran cemetery, above Dawson. Deceased was 18 years, three months and 11 days old. She is survived by her husband, an infant

BIG SIX STORY BUILDING

AARON'S

CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

BRANCH STORES IN GREENSBURG AND JEANNETTE.

FREE FURNITURE

For Everybody and Everybody Delighted

Kitchen Set or 6 Silver Tea Spoons

Free

With purchase of
$10.00 or over.

Picture or 12 Silver Tea Spoons

Free

With purchase of
$20.00 or over.

Parlor Table or Rug

Free

With purchase of
$25.00 or over.

Axminster
27x54 Rug

Free

With purchase of
$30.00 or over.

Quartered
Oak Rocker

Free

With purchase of
$40.00 or over.

Dinner
Set

Free

With purchase of
$50.00 or over.

Gilt
Frame Picture

Free

With purchase of
$75.00 or over.

Morris Chair or 18x40 Mirror

Free

With purchase of
$100.00 or over.

Genuine Leather
Seated Rocker

Free

With purchase of
$125.00 or over.

Quartered Oak
Roman Chair

Free

With purchase of
$150.00 or over.

Genuine Quartered
Oak Library Table

Free

With purchase of
$175.00 or over.

100-Piece
Dinner Set

Free

With purchase of
$200.00 or over.

Genuine Morrocoline
Leather Couch

Free

With purchase of
$250.00 or over.

Turkish Rocker

Free

With purchase of
$300.00 or over.

daughter, her parents and the following brothers and sisters: Blits, wife of Earl Nixon of Glassport; Orville, Gladys, Carl, Joseph and Junior.

JUST LIKE SOME PEOPLE.
"Nowell is a hard worker."
"Yes—he'd make hard work of anything."

WEAR Horner's Clothing

Remember

That every added subscriber helps to make this paper better for everybody

All Suits
All Overcoats
Made to Order $15 & $20 No More No Less Made to Fit

(Without the Vest $14 and $18.50)

We could pay less for Woolens—we could buy cotton linings and inferior canvas and hair cloth. By using cheaper materials, we could make larger profits—

BUT WE DON'T.

When you come to our store we could raise the price and still give you an elegant value even if you should pay twice our never-changing prices of $15 and $20. "No More No Less" and we could hand our salesmen a 10 per cent advance for every garment sold above the advertised price—

BUT WE DON'T.

Now Mr. Clothes Buyer, don't you consider commercial standing and clean business dealing important to you? Wouldn't you rather patronize one-price, one-quality tailors of experience, ability and truthfulness than be drawn into some "Hole-in-the-Wall" shop by high-sounding promises of guaranteed garments "for a song" then be "held up" and made to pay twice the advertised price? Question: What is the difference between such under hand extortion and plain robbery?

Let others head straight for final ruin if they choose, quality shall not be sacrificed here, nor will our reputation for honorable dealing be sullied one vast of several shops. Organization will continue to tailor high-class made, made-to-measure clothes with style and dash, worth $30 and $40 for one half.

The London Woolen Mills

Tailors to the Trade

Fairmount, W. Va.,
Cor. Main and Parks Ave.
Connellsville, Pa.,
Cor. Pittsburg and Peach Sts.

The Daily Courier.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice, Connelville, Pa.

THE COURIER COMPANY, Publishers.

H. P. SNYDER, President and Managing Editor.
J. H. STIMMELL, Secretary and Treasurer.

TELEPHONE RING.
CITY EDITORS AND REPORTERS.
Bell, 12, Two Rings, Tri-State, 55, Two Rings.

BUSINESS OFFICE, JOB AND CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT, Bell, 12, One Ring, Tri-State, 55, One Ring.
H. P. SNYDER, Editor and Manager, Bell, 11.

SUBSCRIPTION.
DAILY, $3 per year; 10c per copy.
WEEKLY, $1 per year; 5c per copy.
PAY NO MONEY in advance, but only to collectors with proper credentials.
Any irregularities or carelessness in the delivery of the Courier to homes by the carrier in Connelville or our agents in other towns should be reported to this office at once.

ADVERTISING.
THIS DAILY COURIER is the only daily newspaper in the Connelville area which has a daily report under oath of the exact number of copies it prints for distribution. Other papers furnish no figures. Advertising rates on application.
THIS WEEKLY COURIER is the recognized organ of the Connelville coke trade. It has special value as an industrial journal and an advertising medium for such interests.

WEDNESDAY EVE'G, MAY 22, 1912.

The Result in Ohio.

The strenuous primary campaign in Ohio has been fought to a finish and present reports are that Colonel Roosevelt has captured a majority of the Republican votes and delegates. For some reason both Roosevelt and Taft, like the prophets of old, are not without honor even in their own country; and in this connection it may be said that they have less honor everywhere than they had a few short weeks ago before they cast their votes for the winds and began to pour forth upon each other's heads torrents of epithets and indiscreet charges of unfaithfulness to public duty.

Prior to the Ohio primary it was generally agreed in political circles that a decisive victory for one or the other Republican candidate would practically determine the result at Chicago. However, there may be here a general and growing belief in the minds of Republicans who are more interested in the good of the party and the welfare of the country than both Taft and Roosevelt have become, largely through their own efforts, in the minds of the country. The Pittsburgh Gazette Times voices this sentiment as follows:

To begin with, the ultimate result in Ohio is not written in the returns. We shall not be able to measure it by the election figures or estimate it by the complexion of the delegation chosen to Chicago. It means more than that and goes deeper. We have witnessed an astounding exhibition of broken friendship between two men whose friendship was the closest of intimacies, and who, if worse, have worked upon the personal antagonisms between two presidents of the United States—the two who secured a better paper in their own hands than any other in the history of this country. Whatever the individual citizen's opinion of these two antagonists may be, however, they may have been regarded hitherto by Republicans or by men of other political faith, future judgments regarding the coming events will be more or less influenced by what Roosevelt has said about Taft, what Taft has said about Roosevelt, and by the attitude of the executive acts of the President of the United States.

It is not for the Gazette Times to assume jurisdiction or to presume to pass judgment upon the merits of this spectacle, but as a Republican journal interested more in the supremacy of Republican principles than in the fortunes of individuals it cannot help recognizing such display of factional feeling within the party. Nor is this at all unusual, but it is alone from a conflict of this unusual nature. The sure effect of the play does and methods that have been used in Ohio is to weaken the common faith in the integrity of our public officials and the stability of our public institutions. If it is not possible for us to trust implicitly such men as Taft and Roosevelt in every ordinary governmental relation, without fear of betrayal or suspicion of double-dealing, what shall we turn? If the office of President of the United States is capable of the baseness of men and women who have come up the pike from ill-famed towns and country to complete their education in poverty-stricken buildings. Many middle-aged men who have studied all the branches of the curriculum of degradation have a reputation of men and some women who have come up the pike from ill-famed towns and country to complete their education in poverty-stricken buildings. Many middle-aged men who have studied all the branches of the curriculum of degradation have a reputation of men and some women who have come up the pike from ill-famed towns and country to complete their education in poverty-stricken buildings.

The real result in Ohio, irrespective of the returns, is to plant in the minds of citizens a sense of foreboding and to breed a lack of confidence which is the basis of national content and progress. They tell us that good sometimes works its way out through evil, and that on occasion the end justifies the means. It may be so. As to the Ohio situation, however, it has been pointed out that there are many Republicans who are hoping against hope for an outcome, an outcome that is recognition will extinguish all recollection of the pre-convention canvass as if it were a nightmare of the past.

Only a few days ago, Colonel Roosevelt indicated in thinly veiled words that he would bolt the Chicago convention if he was not given the nomination; in other words, that he would rule it. This and the Third Term objection are sources of serious weakness. President Taft has made no threats, but he has said enough about Colonel Roosevelt to make it difficult if not impossible for him to support Roosevelt if the latter is the nominee; and it will be just as difficult for Roosevelt to support Taft in the event of the latter's nomination. Their individual votes will effect no modified changes, but their example will prejudice and prevent thousands of other Republican party must be united to win. Division means defeat, and defeat involves the prosperity of the whole country. Democrats may laugh and say this is a mere political threat, but it is not a threat; it is a prophecy, and it is based, not upon faint little visions, but upon bitter experiences. In view of all the circumstances, we only voice the dispassionate judgment of farseeing politicians when we say that every consideration of wisdom demands the selection at Chicago of a Dark Horse of the darkest possible hue.

Braddock and Crawford.

Pennsylvania joins with Great Britain in spending $100,000 to perpetuate on Fayette county soil the memory of the brave but unfortunate General Edward Braddock, who lost his life here because he would not heed the counsels of Washington and the pioneers.

Among those pioneers was one who rose to be a commander in the Continental Army, and who saved his country with patriotism and distinction in battles with the redcoats on the east and the Redskins on the west. He early settled in Fayette county. He became prominent in civil as well as military life. In the pioneer days the corruption of the doctore was unknown. Men were chosen for their worth. This pioneer was chosen by his fellow countrymen and that he was worthy of their confidence. Colonel William Crawford's home was in Connelville, but he lived in Fayette county, Pennsylvania. His memory is quite as deserving of honor at the hands of the State as that of any foreign military commander could possibly be, and the assistance and support of the citizens of Connelville and Fayette county in promoting a substantial expression of that honor is now in order that there may be no invidious distinction between the Red and the Blue.

Dawson wants to establish a High School. Dawson is able to do it, but a bigger and better High School might be established by the consolidation in one big borough of Dawson, Dickerson, East Liberty and Vanderbolt. There is a municipal merger worth while.

The bogus check name is an old one and in modern times it requires both skill and alacrity to get away with it.

There is no lack of volunteers for the Connelville fire-fighting brigade.

High School Commencements and the flowers of spring are blooming all around us.

The Pittsburgh trade bormers had no brass band. They relished preferred to make their own noise.

The High School is multiplying in Fayette county. There is no intellectual suicide here.

Men who chew each other up in canine fashion are not much better than dogs. The extreme penalty of the law is due to the man who so horribly mutilated Thomas Vercord.

The Connelville Baptist Church is 116 years old, but age only adds to its strength and grace.

The announcement that Beef and Drawn has been added to the High School faculty is a sporting event that will make Uniontown turn green with envy.

The High School Commencements are furnishing a surplus of the glittering Genus of Theouth.

The Pittsburgh boosters took some large orders in Connelville and were given delightful entertainment in Uniontown. Business before pleasure.

The Steel Trust probers developed the fact that the American Bridge Company was formed, not for monopoly, but for economic manufacture. That's what most of the Trusts were formed for.

Told Marshal Finn says he is not a candidate for Senator, but it will be noted that he has failed to add the words, "under no circumstances." After all he is no true follower of Roosevelt.

ALL NIGHT LOAFING

By Isaac of Yukon.

In the wide-open cities where the municipal lid is not tacked down where there can be quelled at all bar rooms during any hour of the night, rotary-shuttle' loafing is a prominent feature of the boozier's life.

Cities where all-night loafing is in the curriculum of degradation have a population of men and some women who have come up the pike from ill-famed towns and country to complete their education in poverty-stricken buildings. Many middle-aged men who have studied all the branches of the curriculum of degradation have a reputation of men and some women who have come up the pike from ill-famed towns and country to complete their education in poverty-stricken buildings.

All night loafing requires a strong constitution. The man who thinks he can put up with it and fall asleep in a bar room after he has been on the floor in a corner with the cold and the blowing over him and then wake up at 4 o'clock in the morning without having the imprint of pneumonia stamped on his lungs will think wrong. Not one of these floor sleepers carries life insurance. Life insurance companies do not put any more estimate on an all night loafer than they do on a fleeing shadow.

For the money invested, more pleasure is derived from all-night loafing in a bar room than by raking in the dividends and undistributed profits of a beef trust.

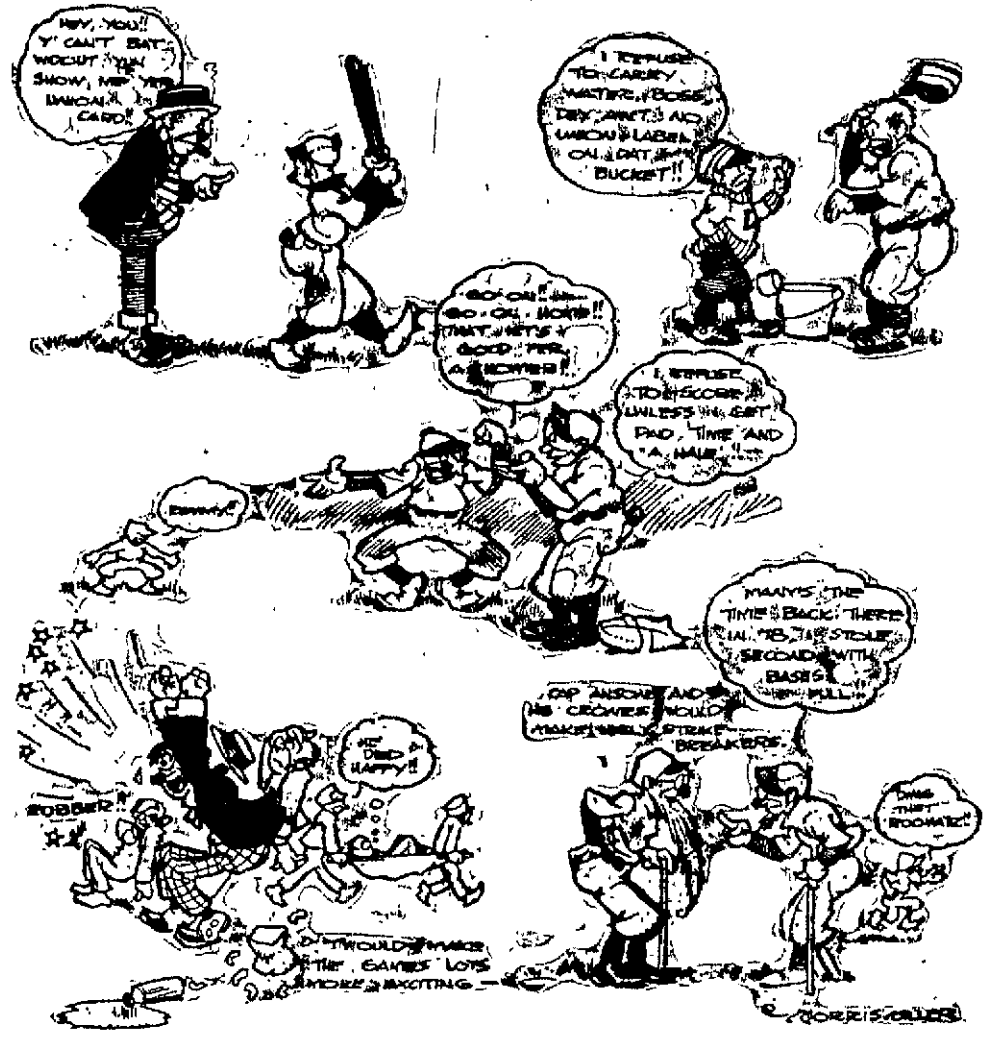

All night loafing brings together the greatest congress of 33-degrees down and outers that walk the earth. When the organization is working under the slack-tub device, there is no chance for improvement. Each member of the disreputable group knows how to work the time lock and the track signals for the drinks when worthless cross the bar room floor.

The same of all greatness in the body of an all night loafer is the fact that he can endure 24 hours of continual torture and keep it rolling six days in the week with a Sunday rest in a lumber yard or in a boiler room.

Everything has its acme even down to loitering and loafing and the whoopsters of a boarding house with a single story.

If you have anything for sale advertise for it in our classified column.

If Baseball Players Should Organize

The strike of the Detroit Tigers suggests some humorous possibilities in the national game.

SHADY GROVE PARK OPENS NEXT SATURDAY

Manager R. S. Coyle looks for Banner Season There This Summer.

Shady Grove, the pleasure ground located half way between Connelville and Uniontown, will open for the summer season on Saturday afternoon. Manager Robert S. Coyle has put the park in its condition and it is expected that some attendance records will be broken.

For several weeks workmen have been putting the park in shape. The dancing pavilion this year as in the past will be one of the main attractions at the park. Rigo's orchestra has been engaged. There will be dancing every afternoon and evening. The first big attraction at the park this year will be the picnic on May 31. The Connelville, north Connelville and Porechville schools have been invited as the guests of Mr. Coyle. Several big attractions also have been arranged for.

WILL PURCHASE NEW FIRE EQUIPMENT AT VANDERBILT

New Apparatus to Cost in the Neighborhood of $300—Get Hand Pump.

The committee appointed by the Vanderbolt Town Council to purchase fire equipment has communicated with a fire extinguisher company of Pittsburgh asking for an exhibition of the apparatus.

The apparatus under consideration is an engine pulled by hand and is equipped with chemicals. It will cost in the neighborhood of $300. This question of placing apparatus on the State road through the borough has been continued until some future meeting.

CLASSIFIED ADS. ONE CENT A WORD.

Wanted.

WANTED-A COOK AND LAUNDRY GIRL. Apply BALTIMORE HOUSE. 22may3td

WANTED-LABORERS ON P. & L. R. R. Apply to C. A. CARLSON, Dickerson Run, Pa. 18may3td

WANTED-MAN OR WOMAN to make $4.00 to $8.00 daily. Call 310 EAST FAYETTE STREET, evenings. 21may3td

WANTED-DININGROOM GIRLS Must be capable of neat appearance. COLONIAL RESTAURANT, Uniontown, Pa. 22may3td

WANTED-AT THE OLIVER COKE plants Nos. 1, 2, 3, coal miners and coke drawers. Apply to foreman of the respective plants. 22may3td

WANTED-BY YOUNG MAN, A position in grocery and general store. Have 2 years experience. Will give references if necessary. Address LOCK BOX 15, Southwest, Pa. 22may3td

For Rent.

FOR RENT-FIVE ROOM HOUSE on Edinburg avenue. Inquire 117 BALDWIN AVENUE. 22ap3td

FOR RENT-A FLAT WITH ALL modern conveniences. Inquire J. L. STADLER, 133 West Main street. 22may3td

FOR RENT-FURNISHED ROOM, 422 SOUTH PITTSBURG STREET. 18may3td

FOR RENT-FIVE UNFURNISHED rooms, 409 WEST WASHINGTON AVENUE. 21may3td

FOR RENT-STORE ROOM, formerly occupied by New York Racket Store. Inquire of ANNA B. SCHMITZ, 133 Main street. 18may3td

For Rent.

FOR RENT-JUNE 1 THREE ROOMS with use of reception hall, bath room and gas range. Inquire 1011 Elm street, South Side. 21may3td

For Sale.

FOR SALE-REAL ESTATE IN ALL parts of Connelville. JOHN NEKE. 18may3td

FOR SALE-RUBBER TUBED RUN-ABOUT for $10.00. Inquire DULL'S LIVERY STABLE. 21may3td

FOR SALE-BABY CHICKS. $10.00 per 100. G. W. WISHART, R. D. 35, Connelville, Pa. 21-May3td

FOR SALE-8 ROOM MODERN house on Ninth street West side. Greenwood. Apply 120 SOUTH NINTH STREET. 20-22-23may

FOR SALE-EAST END ACRE Garden Lots at bargain. Inquire of CHARLES L. GRAY, Connelville Distilling Company, Connelville, Pa. 21may3td

FOR SALE-A MONEY BACK GUARANTEE good with every suit, with my thirteen years of tailoring in Connelville to back it up. DAVE COHEN Tailor. 13

FOR SALE-GOOD SOUND MARE, 8 years old, suitable for driving, 27 work. Price $100 cash. FITZUS TACKHUB, Rockridge, Connelville 18may3td

Lost.

LOST-A LADY'S GOLD WATCH and neck chain, between South Pittsburgh street and Cason groch house. Reward if left at 500 EDNA STREET. 21may3td Public Sale.

PUBLIC SALE THURSDAY, MAY 23 the undersigned will offer at public sale, in Vanderbolt, at 10:00 A. M., his entire livery consisting of 20 horse of horses, and vehicles, etc. J. L. BARRICKLOW, Vanderbolt, Pa. 18may3td

Money to Loan.

PROPERTIES FOR SALE. Insurance. CHARLES M. EVANS. 21feb3td

Administratrix Notice.

ESTATE OF CLARA H. COOK, Deceased. Letter of administration on the estate of Clara H. Cook, late of Connelville Borough, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, deceased, having been granted the undersigned, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to said estate to make immediate payment thereof, and to those having claims against the same to present them properly authenticated for settlement. ESTHER B. PATTERSON, administratrix, Connelville, Pa. 24ap3td

Abe Martin

It's all right to protect the farmer but we shouldn't make him pay for it over time he comes to town. The hardest thing about being a postmaster is being the time.

A Reminder of Present day needs and the best place to buy them

New Jewelry.

Pretty things that are now in demand for graduation gifts. Sterling Shoe Buckles, Mesh Bags, Combs, Bracelets, Ear Rings, Collar Pins, Beads, Coin Purses, Hat Pins, Beauty Pins, Stick Pins, Chains, Cuff Links, Etc. All prices.

Gloves.

Silk-A good Silk Glove in White, Black and colors, at 50c. Black and white only at $1.00, and 16-button length at $1.125 and $1.50. Kid-Biggest Glove value being offered. Fine two-button style in black, white and colors at $1. Ask to see them.

Fine Hosiery.

Fine hse at 25c in black, white and tan, 3 for $1 in plain black and plain black, white and colors at 50c. Fine silk, and embroidered silk hse at $1.00 and a very fine silk at $1.25. Acceptable commencement gifts.

New Neckwear.

The newest things for summer wear in lace and embroidered Collars and Collar Sets, Fischies, Sailors, Dutch Collars and Novelties in flowers, buds, etc.

White Dresses.

For Ladies, Misses and Children. Made of fine linens reppes, lingerie, voiles and lawns, beautifully styles and trimmed with lace, embroidery, buttons, all-over, etc. A well selected line, all sizes, at all prices.

For the Porch.

"Vudor Shades add more to the appearance of your porch than anything else. They keep out the sun and rain and make it a cool and comfortable place. Time now to buy them. Second floor.

Best Brassieres.

The "De Bevoice" make. The best tight fitting corset cover on the market for several reasons. Ask to see it and let us show you. Price 50c up.

White Dresses.

For Ladies, Misses and Children. Made of fine linens reppes, lingerie, voiles and lawns, beautifully styles and trimmed with lace, embroidery, buttons, all-over, etc. A well selected line, all sizes, at all prices.

For the Porch.

"Vudor Shades add more to the appearance of your porch than anything else. They keep out the sun and rain and make it a cool and comfortable place. Time now to buy them. Second floor.

Best Brassieres.

The "De Bevoice" make. The best tight fitting corset cover on the market for several reasons. Ask to see it and let us show you. Price 50c up.

White Dresses.

For Ladies, Misses and Children. Made of fine linens reppes, lingerie, voiles and lawns, beautifully styles and trimmed with lace, embroidery, buttons, all-over, etc. A well selected line, all sizes, at all prices.

For the Porch.

"Vudor Shades add more to the appearance of your porch than anything else. They keep out the sun and rain and make it a cool and comfortable place. Time now to buy them. Second floor.

Best Brassieres.

The "De Bevoice" make. The best tight fitting corset cover on the market for several reasons. Ask to see it and let us show you. Price 50c up.

White Dresses.

For Ladies, Misses and Children. Made of fine linens reppes, lingerie, voiles and lawns, beautifully styles and trimmed with lace, embroidery, buttons, all-over, etc. A well selected line, all sizes, at all prices.

For the Porch.

"Vudor Shades add more to the appearance of your porch than anything else. They keep out the sun and rain and make it a cool and comfortable place. Time now to buy them. Second floor.

Best Brassieres.

The "De Bevoice" make. The best tight fitting corset cover on the market for several reasons. Ask to see it and let us show you. Price 50c up.

White Dresses.

For Ladies, Misses and Children. Made of fine linens reppes, lingerie, voiles and lawns, beautifully styles and trimmed with lace, embroidery, buttons, all-over, etc. A well selected line, all sizes, at all prices.

BASEBALL BOOSTERS MEETING TONIGHT

Interesting Plans to Launch Strong Scottdale Independent Team.

BOYS CAMPING CLUB CONCERT

Y. M. C. A. Organization Takes Means of Raising Vacation Fund by Means of Entertainment—Other Notes of News in the Mill Town.

Special to The Courier
SCOTSDALE, May 22.—Interest is being manifested in the baseball meeting to be held this evening to consider the organization of an independent baseball team to represent Scottdale on the baseball map, after the style of some years ago. The meeting will be in the borough building at 8 o'clock sharp. The proposed team is to be composed of such players as Brown, Watson, Sibley, Komer and other good players from surrounding towns. A manager, a competent and able man will be selected, and it is intended that monthly there shall be issued a complete and exhaustive statement of the financial condition of the club. It is believed that by playing fast attractions the organization can be made self-supporting. All baseball fans should be present at the meeting tonight.

CAMP CLUB CONCERT
The boys' camping club of the Y. M. C. A. expect, from the present sale of tickets to realize well on their fund for this year's camp, through the coming of the Le Sueur Recital party to the Geyer opera house, Friday evening. Those who appear are Charles LeSueur, tenor of the First Presbyterian church, Pittsburg, and Wilfred LeSueur, reader, and Percival LeSueur, pianist, all accomplished artists.

The boys' camping club is called the Camp Club, J. A. Addison, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. is the manager, and Harry Reed, secretary. Frank Walker is president. Other charter members are James Wilkey, Preston Leucks, Edward Schaefer, Ray Knecht, Elmer Carroll, Leo Thomas, Milton Barclay, Charles Kester and Edgar McLaughlin. Members who have joined the original club are Robert Young, Clark Grimm, John Lotzler, Samuel Murphy, Thomas Lowmyer, Ray Knecht, Elmer Carroll, William Sawyer, Verla Shultz, George Lipp and Harold Kretschmer.

THE ALBERTON V. C. T. U. has arranged to sell flowers, opposite to the grave of the cemetery at that place, from Saturday next until Wednesday, May 23. This will be a great accommodation for those desiring to decorate the graves. The Union announces that those who cannot visit the cemetery may have the graves properly decorated by addressing the President or the Secretary of the Union at Alberton, Pa., at an early date.

CONTEST AT RANKIN.
The Alberton V. C. T. U. has arranged for a contest at the Rankin school house, near Rankintown, on the evening of Tuesday, June 1, which will prove interesting to many people.

NORMAL OFFERS.
The Mt. Pleasant Township Summer Normal opened on Monday with an enrollment of 33 pupils. Herbert C. Eicher, the principal of the High School, and a resident of Scottdale, is one of those in charge. John J. Elliott of Mt. Pleasant, being the other.

IN PITTSBURGH.
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ludwig are in Pittsburgh today.

NEW SCHEDULE.
There will go into effect a new schedule on the Pennsylvania railroad next Sunday just after midnight.

ON JURY DUTY.
Murray McClain, Harry Kromer and W. L. Schaffer are on the jury at Greensburg this week.

Unclaimed Letters.

List of unclaimed letters addressed at the postoffice, Scottsville, Pa., May, 1912. Ask for advertised letters:

Bloom, F. W.	Luke John
Black, Leahy	Minor Noth
Bobbs, Louis	Marshall Louis
Coffman, W.	Miller Abe
Campbell, A. J.	McIntosh, C. W.
Cornell, Frances	Oster Miss
Cocconour, Miss	Frankie
Liddle	Pate W. M.
Cometto, Batisa	Richter Mrs.
Getchell, E.	Joanna
Gward, John	Richter Miss
Holmes, John	Elizabeth
Hawerty, James	Spabellone A.
Henry, Mrs.	Williams T. L.
Kenner, E.	Zochhauser and
Kennedy, Dec	Thompson
List Gen.
Laughery J. H.
	Thompson
Cups, Maty	Stahly Stefan
Hudak, Josef	Varga Yovan
Medavac, Josef

Married in Cumberland.
Harry Oliver Yealey and Catherine Cecelia Schaefer, both of Connelville, Charles Strehm and Mary Knapp, both of Scottdale, were married in Cumberland Monday.

A Simple Way to Make Soft Soap

While its use is not general, some housewives prefer for certain cleansing purposes to use soft soap, or soap in paste form, believing it more convenient or economical than ordinary soap.

Gold Dust washing powder can be converted into the finest soft soap by dissolving it in hot water in the proportion of 1 heaping tablespoon of the powder to each quart of hot water. When cool, it is ready for use.

Gold Dust works more thoroughly and quickly than soap or other cleansers.

THE KIMONA GOWN.

Whether this type of gown is due to the Japanese influence or not, it has unmistakably the lines of the kimono. The material is white serge with an intricate black stripe. The waist and skirt are joined together under a belt of bright Oriental embroidery, done in heavy wool upon coarse grey linen. The closing is under the black satin band. This band is shaped on the skirt following the outline of the figure on the side.

PROGRAM AT SOMERSET FOR MEMORIAL DAY

R. P. Cummings Post Has Arranged Elaborate and Lifting Services for May 30.

SOMERSET, May 22.—Memorial Day will be fittingly observed in Somerset. The following military organizations will participate in a program arranged by a joint committee: R. P. Cummings Post, No. 210, Grand Army of the Republic; Company C, Tenth Infantry, N. G. P.; Capt. James S. Hinchman Cap, No. 122, Sons of Veterans, and the Boys' Brigade, an auxiliary to the National Guard company.

The military associations will hold a program which will form at the court house at 10 A. M. and move over Main Street, Main and West streets to the Union Cemetery. The parade will halt at the grave of Col. R. P. Cummings, as has been the custom for many years. Here the following program will be carried out: The Sons of Veterans' Drum Corps will render a dirge while the floral committee take their positions around the grave, the committee being composed of Capt. J. Harrison, William A. Baranek, and Simon P. Swelbert, Jr., Commander of R. P. Cummings Post, prayer, the Rev. Dr. Kling, Chaplain of the Post; floral tributes; music, Drum Corps; strewing flowers on the veterans' graves; Sons of Veterans salute fired by a detailed squad; benediction, the Rev. Dr. Kling, pastor of the United Brethren church; assembly, Charles C. Shaffer. During the services in the Union cemetery, a squad of Sons of Veterans will decorate the graves of veterans in the Hubbard Cemetery.

The parade will form in the following order: Chief Marshall, Lincoln H. Stern; Alder-de-Camp, Freeman J. Hoffman, P. S. Gohn, Chief of Police James W. Solbert; Sunday School children, in charge of a committee from the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans; Ladies Auxiliary, Harry Schaefer, Color Bearer, John Kifer; Color Guards, George Pettit, Frederick Shultz, J. S. Shultz and Norman Pettit; Sons of Veterans commanded by Capt. Daniel W. Saylor, of Haverhill; Civic Body, Sons of Veterans; R. P. Cummings Post and other Civil War veterans; Veterans of the Spanish-American War; Company C, Tenth Regiment, N. G. P.

Following the services at the Union and Hubbard cemeteries the procession will march to the Reformed cemetery for a brief observance, after which the parade will return to the court house, where the day's program will be completed as follows:

Dirge, Drum Corps; address, the Rev. Dr. Hiram Kling; playing of the wreaths on the monument by Little Girls; taps; reading of Gen. Logan's address at the First National Encampment of the G. A. R.; Captain William H. Sanner; reading of President Lincoln's address at Gettysburg; Son of M. Cook, music, Drum Corps; address, Judge William Ruppel; benediction, the Rev. H. A. Buchanan, pastor of the United Brethren church. After the court house clock strikes 12 the ceremonies will be suspended for five minutes when the men will remove their hats while the court house bell is tolled, after which the services will be resumed. In case of inclement weather the services will be held in the assembly hall of the court house.

The following members of R. P. Cummings Post have died since last Memorial Day: Bill Shockey, John Bailey, Moses Yoder and Franklin F. Keonta.

Have You Anything For Sale? If so, advertise it in our classified column. Cost—one cent a word.

Shady Grove opens Saturday, May 25.

AFTER MEASLES

Young Girl Was Badly Run Down.

Parents too often make the mistake of thinking that certain diseases of childhood, such as measles and whooping cough, are harmless and measles is very likely to weaken the kidneys and have serious effects unless the system is built up with a reliable strength-giver such as Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil.

Miss Marion Shaver, a young girl of Luzerne, N. Y., says: "I had measles several months ago and it left me in a very bad condition, weak and rundown. After several months of this, I took Vinol to build me up. It has done me much good. I have gained both strength and weight and my appetite is good."

In all weakened and rundown conditions of the body, from any cause, Vinol should be used to create new blood and increase strength. We guarantee it to do this and will pay back your money if it does not. Graham & Co., druggists, Connelville. Vinol is sold in West Connelville by Fred H. Haimenling, druggist.

Patronize those who advertise.

Nicket Theatre

North Pittsburg Street

Opens Monday afternoon under new management. Theater will be thoroughly cleaned and odorized.

Best Moving Pictures in Town

Illustrated Songs by Miss Seal.

3-Reels Pictures—3

Friday night for one night only MR. SAM MORRIS, Connelville's foremost comedian and impersonator at same admission.

Don't Fail to See Morris

Saturday, Afternoon and Evening, America's Wars.

ADMISSION 5c. AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

Pennsylvania Railroad

Reduced Fares to

PITTSBURGH

Account 59th Annual Conclave Grand Commandery K. T. of Pennsylvania May 27, 28 and 29, 1912. Excursion Tickets will be sold May 25 to 29, good returning to reach original starting point on or before June 1, from stations in Pennsylvania to Pittsburgh.

PARADE DAY

10:00 A. M. Tuesday, May 28. Consult Ticket Agents.

Washington Crisps

THE SUPERIOR QUALITY OF TOASTED CORN FLAKES IN AMERICA

Cut off one-third HIGH cost of buying for cereal food

We GUARANTEE that Washington Crisps are made under MOST PERFECT SANITARY CONDITIONS possible to create in SPOTLESSLY CLEAN MILLS, by high-class workmen.

"First in the HOMES of our Countrymen"

THE SUPERIOR QUALITY OF TOASTED CORN FLAKES IN AMERICA

1/2 More THAN IN ANY OTHER CEREAL FOOD PACKAGE for 10¢

Women's Summer Shoes

Graceful modeling in elegant plain and ornamental designs, mark our display of

White Summer Footwear

There are pumps with ribbon bows and Colonial Buckles, in two-strap as well as shapeless.

WHITE NU-BUCK AND DUCK.

We also have the high button boots in Nu-Buck, Cravanette and Duck, which are so popular this season.

We ask the attention of Women to these Summer Shoes, for every woman will have a place for them in her outfitting for hot weather.

REGAL STORE,

The Horner-Crowley Co., Ltd. CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

To Foreclose on Mortgage.
The Knickerbocker Trust Company of New York acting for the holders of the Superior Coal Company the largest coal mining and shipping concern in Southern Ohio, will foreclose on a mortgage of $473,000 on the property because of default in the interest.

Pictures of the opening game of the Connelville-McKeesport Clubs will be shown at the Solvay theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 23, 24 and 25, afternoon and night. Admission always 5 cents.

ECZEMA CAME FROM TEETHING

Watery Festers Dried in Scabs. Would Dig and Scratch Her Face. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Was Cured.

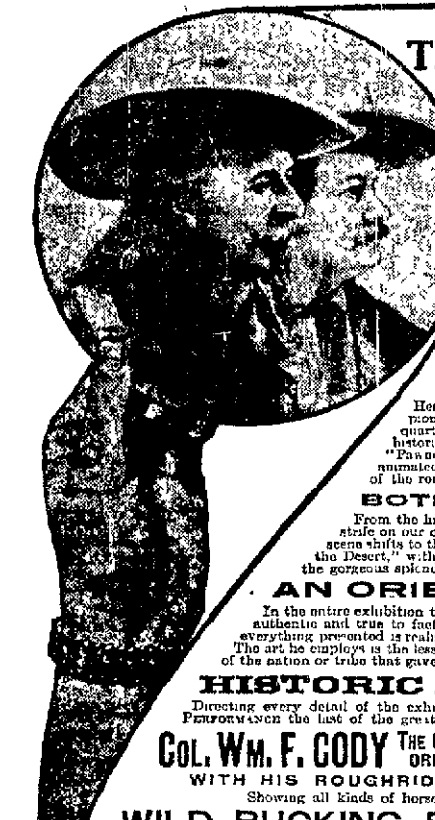

"When my little girl was about eight months old, she was taken with a very irritating breaking out, which came on her face, neck and back. When she first came down with it, it came in little watery-like festers under her eyes and on her chin, then after a few days it would dry down in scabs, white scabs. In the daytime she was quite worrisome and would dig and scratch her face nearly all the time."

"I consulted our physician and found she was suffering from eczema, which he said came from her teething. I used the ointment he gave me and without any relief at all. Then I wrote for a book on Cuticura, and purchased some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the druggist. I did as I found directions in the Cuticura Booklet, and when she was one year old, she was entirely cured. Now she is three years and four months, and she has never been troubled with eczema since she was cured by the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Freeman Oray, 211 Lewis St., Syracuse, N. Y., May 6, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but to those who have tried the usual remedies and found them wanting, and who have lost faith in everything, a liberal sample of each, with 25¢ in book on the skin, will be sent post-free, on application to Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 24, Boston, Mass.

Buffalo Bill Bids Farewell to Connelville But Not Until Monday, June 10.

(The Baseball Ground.)

THE SCROLL OF FAME

Bears no names more illustrious than those of men who have devoted their lives to the advancement of mankind. What nobler mission could there be than to give pleasure, education and amusement to one's fellow-men? To have given to the world original, ingenious, historic and lasting entertainment is quite enough to command lasting fame for the originator, founder and perpetuator of

BUFFALO BILL'S WILD WEST

PAWNEE BILL'S FAR EAST

With An Entirely NEW PROGRAM AND SCENIC EFFECTS
Honored by Col. Wm. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," Ex-Chief Scout, U. S. Army, pioneer, platoon leader, hunter, scout and Indian fighter, who has for more than a quarter of a century caused fame in two hemispheres through exhibiting his historic exploits of early days in the Western Wilds. Maj. Gordon W. Lakin, "Pawnee Bill," has also contributed authentic pictures of the Great Plains in mounted tableaux depicting the tribes and people, customs and costumes of the remote far East, and thus displays in contrastive pictures

BOTH SIDES OF THE EARTH

From the historic scenes and incidents, depicting pioneer days and frontier strife on our own rolling prairie with vistas of barbaric war and fury, the scene shifts to the sands of the Sahara, its camel caravans and "ships of the desert," with the Pyramids and Sphinx, the tribes of the South and the gorgeous splendors of

AN ORIENTAL SPECTACLE

In the entire exhibition there is no sham or subterfuge; it is absolutely original, authentic and true in fact. Its preeminent characteristic is genuineness; everything presented is realism itself. Every horseman is the hero he represents. The art he employs is the lesson of a lifetime. The garb he wears is the uniform of the nation or tribe that gave him birth. In every particular it is emphatically

HISTORIC AND GENUINE

Directing every detail of the exhibition and POSITIVELY APPEARING AT EVERY PERFORMANCE the detail of the great actors and pathfinders

Col. Wm. F. Cody THE ONLY AND ORIGINAL BUFFALO BILL

WITH HIS ROUGHRIDERS OF THE WORLD

Showing all kinds of horsemanship from the

WILD BUCKING BRONCHOS

TO

HIGH-SCHOOL HUNTERS AND HIGH JUMPERS

Indian Battle Scenes, Thrilling Western Episodes, Brilliant Far Western Displays, Rare Sports and Pastimes, Selected from All Around the Globe. Numerous New and Standard Games

FOOTBALL PLAYING HORSES

Mexican Rarities and the Famous Cowboy Band

MAXIMILLIAN GRUBER'S

Marvelous Performing Animals

Including Elephants, Horses, Dogs and Ponies, all in one

REALISM RUNS RAMPANT

During three hours of Object-taught lessons in American History, a School of Mathematics, an academy of Linguistics, and an Exhibition of Oriental Splendors. The Only Object-Taught History has ever known. The only School of Instruction the American World has ever maintained. In short, a

PEERLESS PAGEANT OF PLEASURE

TWO EXHIBITIONS DAILY, 2 AND 8 P. M.

RAIN OR SHINE. Admission (including Seat) 50¢

All seats protected from Sun and Rain by Immense Waterproof Canvas Canopy. Grand Stand Chairs including Admission 50¢. Children under 9 years half price, on sale day of exhibition at Thomas & Brown, Booksellers & Confection, 113 West Main Street.

OVER YOUR

you are naturally concerned, especially if they have begun to show signs of weakness. Do not delay, but come it once to us and have your eyes examined. We will then advise you and select glasses for you that will ease the vision and give you perfect sight. We are experts and have the confidence of all our patrons. They are satisfied with our work and with our charges for same.

A. B. KURTZ

Jeweler, 131 W. Main Street.

Baltimore & Ohio

GREATLY REDUCED

CONVENTION FARES

10

ATLANTIC CITY, BALTIMORE, MD.

CHICAGO, ILL.

CLEVELAND, O.

KANSAS CITY, MO.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

ST. LOUIS, MO.

ST. PAUL, MINN.

TOLEDO, O.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

And Many Points on the PACIFIC COAST

For further details apply to nearest Baltimore & Ohio Ticket Agent

TRY OUR CLASSIFIED ADLETS.

To Automobile Owners

Have you ever had a blowout and ruined your tire before you were able to get it repaired? Have you ever had a boot applied in such a manner as to absolutely prevent slipping and fracture from spreading?

Have you ever had a protector that could be adjusted in one minute?

Have you ever had any device that would hold a blow-out for any length of time?

The use of

Martel Blow-Out Protector

will positively overcome all of the above disadvantages and will be the best investment you ever made in connection with your machine. They are made to attach on any style of rim, such as Clincher, Dunlap, Quick Detachable, etc.

Absolutely guarantee The Martel Blow-Out Protector for the term of one year.

C. M. Maxwell

General Agent, 130 E. MAIN ST., CONNELLSVILLE, Pa.

Tri-State Phone, 830; Bell, 487.

PATRONIZE THOSE WHO ADVERTISE

IN THE DAILY COURIER.

Connellsville Garbage & Fertilizer Co.

310 2nd National Bank Building. Both Phones. CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Rates for family service, twice a week for garbage as follows:

Families, 3 or under . . . 50¢ per month
Families, 4 to 5 . . . 75¢ per month
Families, 6 or over . . . $1.00 per month.

Large accumulations of ashes, dirt, refuse matter, etc., special rates per load or parts of load.

CLEANING VAULTS OUR SPECIALTY.

Prompt service, efficiency, and courtesy our motto.

WHERE THE CLOVE IS CHIEFLY FOUND

Zanzibar Produces Most of That Article Which Perfumes the Breeze.

THE YIELD VARIES GREATLY

Another Steady Product of the Sultanate is Copra, Which is Finding a Ready Market in France—Some of the Clove Trees 90 Years Old.

The Sultanate of Zanzibar, just off the coast of central Africa, comprises four islands—Zanzibar, Pemba, Mafia and Lamu. This sultanate produces perhaps nine-tenths of the cloves of the world. The climate and soil of the two islands of Zanzibar and Pemba seem peculiarly adapted to the growing of this important article. Many of the trees are 90 years old, although most of the clove plantations on Zanzibar inland date from 1872, when a terrific cyclone swept over it, doing fearful damage to the trees.

Clove trees begin to bud about January or February, and the picking is done any time after July, continuing for about four months, as the trees ripen irregularly. When the cloves have been picked they are exposed on mats to the sun for six or seven days, and are then sent to the custom house where the government extracts an export duty of 25 per cent.

The crop is a very uncertain one, a heavy yield one year, and comparatively nothing the next. The bulk of the cloves are bought by Americans, Germans and Indians, and are sent to Bombay, Hamburg, London and New York. Most of the cloves are used in distilling oil of cloves, which in turn is employed in the manufacture of drugs, perfumes, confectioneries, etc.

Another great product of Zanzibar is copra, which is the dried interior of the coconut. The coconuts grow throughout the sultanate without cultivation; land is sold by the number of coconuts trees on it. A tree will yield from 100 to 150 nuts a year, the crop is gathered about every four months. The nuts are split open and dried in the sun for several days, when the product is ready for shipment. France consumes most of the copra, which is used in the manufacture of soap, oil cakes, etc.

Approached from the ocean the city of Zanzibar presents a beautiful picture; the snow-white Arab houses are set against a background of soft tropical green; lying close to the shore are the hundreds of native dhows with their quaint sails, while farther out in the deep water are the foreign ships. A prominent building on the waterfront is the palace of the sultan, which suggests a hotel at one of the Atlantic watering places, with its wide verandas and square lawn. Back of the palace are the remains of the old fort erected by the Portuguese, and here and there are to be seen the flags of the consulates of the various powers, conspicuous among them being the stars and stripes.

All his Hamoud, the present sultan of Zanzibar, is a young man. He succeeded his father in 1902, when but 17 years old, and until his majority the sultanate was under a regent. The sultan was educated in England, and speaks English fluently, as well as French, Arabic and Swahili. He is a great traveler, and spends much of his time in Europe; he has a town palace, and several country places, to some one of which he usually retires during the hot season. The sultanate is a British protectorate under the foreign office.

Principle and Interest.

A Moral Principle met a Material Interest on a bridge wide enough for both.

"Down, you base thing!" thundered the Moral Principle, "and let me pass over you!"

The Material Interest merely looked at the other's eyes without saying anything.

"Ah," said the Moral Principle, hesitatingly, "let us draw lots to see which one of us shall retire till the other has crossed."

The Material Interest maintained an unbroken silence and an unwavering stare.

"In order to avoid a conflict," the Moral Principle resumed, somewhat uneasily, "I shall myself lie down and let you walk over me."

Then the Material Interest found his tongue. "I don't think you are very good walking," he said. "I am a little particular about what I have underfoot. Suppose you got off into the water."

It occurred that way—Ambrose Bierce.

Something Different.

A man could get so tired of turkey that he would welcome a dinner of corned beef, and it would be just the same with any food.

Here were two fruit vendors, met by chance, with their pushcarts heaped up close together alongside the curb, one selling nothing but grapes and the other nothing but apples, and here was the apple vendor appreciatively eating a bunch of grapes and the grape vendor with equal enjoyment eating an apple.

Each had on his cart an abundant supply of fine food, but it was always the same, and like everybody else, they craved something different.

COL. CUMMINS BACK

With Young Buffalo Show After a Tour of Europe.

Col. Cummins, Director General of the Cummins' Far East, now united with the Young Buffalo Wild West, returned to America with his exhibition last fall, completing a six year's tour of Europe with his Far East and Indian Circus, the longest tour ever made by an American amusement enterprise. He numbered royalty, nobility, ministers, statesmen and the society of the old world among his patrons.

For a number of years Col. Cummins' Indian Circus has been classed as the most noteworthy in this country, and was selected as the most representative one, to form an integral part of the great World's Fair held at Buffalo, St. Louis and Omaha. No white man enjoys the confidence, or is held in higher esteem by the red man than is Col. Cummins. In 1887 he was adopted by Red Cloud, the famous Sioux chief and given the title, Ta-Ko-Ta, signifying chief of all the Indians.

During his eventful career, which reads like fiction, Col. Cummins has exhibited as many as 42 tribes of Indians at one time, and on the occasion of his visit to this city a majority of these tribes, who have been with him for years, will be seen again in the arena.

Many valuable additions to the Far East were secured by personal visits of the Colonel last winter to Oriental countries, South Africa and Australia, and will be seen in the Buffalo Wild West and Col. Cummins' Far East in Connellsville on Thursday, May 23, forming, it is said, the largest and most complete program of features ever seen in this city.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS JUMP INTO LEAD FOR THE LIBRARY

Last Week's Leaders, Drop to Fourth, Parochial Schools Running Close.

The contest for the free library has developed into a neck and neck race this week between the Connellsville public schools and the immaculate Conception parochial school. Both have over 25,000. The Conception School is third and Dunbar Township High School, leaders last week, fourth.

Keen interest is being manifested in the contest and votes are in demand. The standing of the contestants is as follows:

Dunbar Township High School	5,685
Conception Hospital	5,093
Connellsville High School	28,549
Immaculate Conception	25,090
R. O. C. P.	10,550
R. of L. P. & E.	828
C. B. Church	423
E. G. P.	410
E. M. C. A.	312
Moore	216
K. of P.	164
K. of C.	109
K. of M.	113
R. of T.	111
R. G.	201
Heptastroph	111
J. D. U. A. M.	22
Hank Vetter	24

Above votes counted and found correct at the office of K. K. Kramer, Real Estate and Insurance, 201 Titus & Trust Bldg.

Mr. Kramer would consider it a compliment if representative of the various schools and organizations that are interested in this contest would come to his office each Tuesday morning and inspect the count of these votes.

Continues to Improve.

Former Congressman Allen F. Cooper continues to improve and it is expected he will be able to return to his home from Mercy hospital in the near future.

LET 'EM VOTE.

Hubby—And what will you women do when you get a vote?

Wife—The first thing we'll do is change the ballot from horrid pink to pale blue.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Fitch

Read The Daily Courier.

No More Constipation —WHEE!

It's Me for Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Columbus's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets.

They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

It is easy to compel bowel and liver activity for a time with calomel and nasty, sickening, griping castor oil, but the after effects are dangerous, and the real cause of the trouble is often not been touched.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

The Olive Tablet Company of Columbus, Ohio.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS IN SOMERSET COUNTY

Superintendent Selbert Fixes Dates and Outlines the Rules and Regulations Governing Them.

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.

SOMERSET, May 22.—County Superintendent Daniel W. Selbert has fixed the dates for holding the annual teachers' examinations in Somerset county as follows: Hopewell, June 11 and 12; Rockwood, June 12 and 13; Confluence, June 15 and 16; Somerset, June 17 and 18; Salisbury, June 20 and 21; Conemaugh township, June 24 and 25; Meyersdale, June 25 and 27; Berlin, June 28 and 29. A special examination for the re-education of teachers who were unable to attend any of the others will be held at Somerset on August 19 and 20.

The examination of teachers applying to professional certificates will be held at Somerset on July 1 and 2, and the permanent certificate examination will be held on June 6 and 7.

The examinations will begin at 9 A. M. Each teacher must present a health certificate, properly signed by a physician.

The school laws forbid the election of any teacher who does not hold a valid certificate at the time of the election. All applicants must be examined at one of the regular examinations. Applicants for professional certificates are required to present recommendations from the boards by whom they were employed last year. Owing to the fact that one day efforts insufficient time for applicants to satisfactorily execute the required work, Superintendent Selbert has consolidated some of the classes in order that two days may be allowed for each examination. Superintendent Selbert invites all directors and friends of education to attend the examinations, and requests directors to have the school houses open and in proper condition on examination days.

NO REASON FOR IT.

You Are Shown the Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of serious kidney ailments, when relief is so near at hand and so easily secured. The following is a convincing proof.

C. C. Carter, 106 East Main street, Mt. Pleasant, Pa., says: "I have been greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys were in bad shape and my back ached a great deal. There was in extreme lameness through my legs that would not yield to any other remedy I took. Finally I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills and my lameness was so subsided that I gladly recommend them." (Statement given October 24, 1907.)

TWO YEARS LATER.

When Mr. Carter was interviewed on October 8, 1909, he added to the above: "Since I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago, I have taken them off and on and they have always given me prompt relief. You may continue to publish my former endorsement of this sterling remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlhenny Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WORKING OVERTIME.

Seniors are Working Hard Getting Commencement Parts Into Shape.

Professor Wilmer H. Seawright is rapidly getting his Commencement performers ready for the last week. The work of preparation is now rounding on its last lap.

Seniors taking part in the Commencement, class day and class play exercises are rapidly getting their parts into shape. The members of the class play have been rehearsing at night lately.

Lutherans at Somerset.

The thirty-sixth annual convention of the Lutheran Sunday School Association of Somerset county will be held in the Trinity Lutheran church at Berlin Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 18, 19 and 20.

CONNELLVILLE THURSDAY, MAY 23

THE MOST NOTEWORTHY AND REMARKABLE COMBINE IN AMUSEMENT ANNALS

BIG STREET PARADE

SLIGO SHOW GROUNDS

10:30 A. M. 2 PERFORMANCES DAILY—2 & 8 p. m. Rain or Shine

FORWARDED! Timely Notice

There will be an unprecedented two weeks of bargains at all the Union Supply Company's stores during the last half of May. This is a forwarding; a timely notice, for every resident of the coke region to be on hand and participate in the great bargain events. It would be a reflection on the intelligence of any man or woman who would not take advantage of this opportunity to save money and supply their homes with all the necessary wants. The high standard of quality of Union Supply Company's goods is established, and that is a feature it is unnecessary for us to talk about. We do want, however, to specify some of the sensational bargains.

First we Call Your Attention to the remarkable values that we have for women and misses, consisting of made up shirt waists, dresses, millinery, and complete line of all sorts of furnishings such as hosiery, underwear, gloves, neckwear, corsets, and corset covers, lace and embroidery and all sorts of undergarments. And remember, during the balance of this month, the price on all these new fashionable goods are being cut. This sale is unique, because a sale of this time of year is simply a Union Supply Company innovation. It is giving you the advantage of cut prices; reduced prices, something all opposition merchants put off until the latter part of the season when they are obliged to force the stock out.

UNION SUPPLY CO.

63 LARGE DEPARTMENT STORES, Located in Fayette, Westmoreland & Allegheny Cos.

Eyes Examined. Lenses Prescribed.

Relief from Nervous Disorders Due to Eye Strain. Defective Vision Corrected. Cross Eyes Straightened. Prescriptions for Lenses Promptly Filled.

DR. THOS. A. SCANTLING

OPHTHALMOLOGIST

TITLE & TRUST BUILDING, Connellsville, Pa.

Hours 9 to 12; 1:30 to 5; 7:30 to 8:30.

No Drugs. No Operations.

Paying By Check Has So Many Distinct Advantages over paying with currency that we want every one in Connellsville to know about them. Our FREE booklet on this subject tells the story.

Write or call for a copy.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

"The Bank That Does Things for You"

129 WEST MAIN STREET, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

4% on Savings. Steamship Tickets. Money Orders.

I Wish I Had a Bank Account!

How often you have wished but failed to say "I will."

Stop wishing. Start saving—today, in this bank. We pay 4 per cent interest on Savings Accounts. Compounded every six months.

Second National Bank

Connellsville, Pa.

The Eight Story Fire Proof Building.

Efficient Service and Courteous Treatment

Has enabled us, within the past year, to double the number of our customers. Quite a number of persons and societies, with surplus funds, who do not want to tie up their money subject to the rules of a regular 4% account, are taking advantage of our special 3% accounts. If you are a customer at this bank you will always find us willing to extend any reasonable accommodation on satisfactory security.

Our Customers Always Receive the Preference.

If you have a little ready money it will pay you to open an account with us, become acquainted, and take advantage of our service.

The Colonial National Bank

CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Corner Main and Pittsburg Streets.

4% interest paid on Certificates and Time Deposits. Foreign Department equipped to give the best of service.

The Yough National Bank,

125 W. Main St., Connellsville, Pa.

Capital and Surplus.....$150,000

Total Resources.....$900,000

4% Interest Paid on Savings.

Should Be a calendar day for you to SAVE MONEY!

If you wait a few days before depositing the chances are you'll be tempted to spend your money.

If you deposit EVERY PAY DAY you'll gain instead of lose the money as we give 4% interest on all deposits made at Our Savings Department.

Union National Bank, West Side, Connellsville, Pa.

Insure Your Property With

J. Donald Porter

Insurance and Real Estate

Second National Bank Building, Both Phones.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Leading Companies—Lowest Rates

Old Established Agency.

THE MOVING MAN

Household goods and Pianos moved and Piano Hoisting a specialty. General hauling. Biggest wagons and most careful men in town.

Prices Reasonable.

J. N. TRUMP

Tri-State Phone 112. Office 104 Peach St. CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

TO-day's Opportunities

Do your best with to-day's opportunities, then tomorrow's will not pass you by. Open an account now with the Title & Trust Company of Western Pennsylvania, where your money will be secure and steadily work for you at compound interest. 4% interest paid on Savings Accounts.

Title & Trust Company of Western Pennsylvania, Connellsville, Pa.

The Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

OLYMPIC continues

1 P. M. to 11 P. M.

The Biggest 5-Cent Show in Connellsville

THREE REELS

Pictures Changed Every Day.

ADMISSION 5c

Riding ahead, boot to boot with Conroy, I thought out a plan for action, and finally, in the gray of the morning, told him enough of the story to arouse his interest. Just before sunrise we passed Elmhurst, the great white mansion appearing silent and deserted. There was no halting, although we turned in the saddle to look, and my eyes swept over the troopers trotting behind us. They were a sturdy lot, their faces bronzed from exposure, their uniforms stained and discolored.

"Regulars?" I asked, nodding back across my shoulder.

"Not a man but has seen two years' service," he replied proudly. "Hamilton knows the troop, and he picked us out."

"I may need them for a bit of desperate work."

"They'll do it, sir, never fear."

"Good, sergeant; we'll ride hard, and trust to getting fresh horses in Philadelphia. I'll tell Arnold the story. When we arrive there have your men get all the sleep they can. I'll attend to rations and ammunition. You are simply to have the men rested and ready. Cannot we make better time? The horses seem in good condition."

We passed swiftly over the level country, meeting a few stragglers, but paying them small attention. By two o'clock we were on the banks of the Delaware, and a half-hour later, I swung down slightly from the saddle in front of Arnold's headquarters on High street.

He was an officer I never greatly liked, with his snapping eyes and arrogant manner, but he was courteous enough on this occasion, questioning me after reading the dispatch, and offering me a glass of wine.

"You look tired, major, and must rest before you start back. I shall have my report ready by sundown."

"General Arnold," I said, standing respectfully but in hand, "I have a favor to ask—that you will send your report by some other messenger, and give me a detail for special service."

He looked up in surprise.

"Special service, sir? But you are not assigned to my command."

"That is true, general," I insisted, "but the conditions warrant the unusual application."

"What service is contemplated?"

"An attempt to kill or capture Fagin, and release a scout whom I believe he holds prisoner."

"You hope to accomplish all this alone?"

"With the assistance of the sergeant and ten dragoons who came here with me. They are in camp now on the Jersey shore."

He walked across the room, stared out of the window, and then again faced me.

"By God, sir, this is a most extraordinary request. Damn me, I'd like to get hold of Fagin all right, but I need to know more of your plan, and the reason you have for asking such a detail. It looks foolhardy to my mind."

I went over the situation carefully, watching the effect of my words in the man's face. He sat at the table now, leaning forward eagerly. Arnold had the reputation of a gallant, and my first reference to a young lady aroused him.

"The name, please—you mentioned no name."

"Claire Mortimer, sir."

"Ah! Ah! I remember her well. Danced with her myself. Now go on, sir; I can appreciate the tale better for my recollection of the fair heroine."

I was not long at it, although he interrupted me occasionally by shrewd questioning. As I concluded he kept silent a moment, looking at me from under his heavy brows.

"It looks like rather a blind trail to me, major," he said kindly, "but I'm no sportsman in such an affair. You might have the luck to stumble onto your party and I'd take the chance myself if I were in your shoes. You wish to start at sunset?"

"Yes, sir."

"You need horses, rations and pistol ammunition for twelve men?"

"Yes, sir."

"Very well, major, the quartermaster will attend these details. Go and lie down. Washington may not approve, but I'll take the responsibility."

He extended his hand across the table, and I felt the firm clasp of his hand.

CHAPTER XXIX.

I Run Across Eric.

I slept three hours, the dead sleep of sheer exhaustion, but felt refreshed and strong when roughly aroused. Before sunset I was across the river, where I found my little squad of dragoons prepared for their night's adventure. Arnold had kept his word, the fresh horses being fine animals, the ammunition in excess of our needs. Conroy was enthusiastic, and somewhat loquacious, but I cut his conversation off rather sharply, and ordered the men into their saddles. With brains clarified by sleep I realized the importance of the work before us, and how important my plans were. I could hardly ride forth to Elmhurst, hoping to pick up some clue to aid me. As we rode rapidly along the deserted road leading to Elmhurst I reviewed over and over again every remembered detail, only to conclude that I must get hands on Grant, and by threats, or any other available means, compel him to confess his part in the villainy. Dark settled about us, succeeded by night, as we pressed steadily forward, the men riding silently, the only sound the tramp of boots, and the slight jingle of accoutrements. As we passed the black walls of Farrell's shop, I recalled the papers found in Fagin's coat, and the reference in Fagin's note to a rendezvous at Lone Tree. Probably that was the spot where the two had been accustomed to meeting. If true in the past, why not now as well? Suddenly it occurred to me that it was at a place called Lone Tree that the minute men had gathered for their attack on Delavan's wagon train. Could this, by any possibility, be the same spot? I drew my horse back beside Conroy.

"Ever heard of a place called Lone Tree?" I asked quietly.

He rubbed his head thoughtfully.

"Not just about here, sir. We camped over east of there once, maybe a year ago, down in a hollow where there was one big tree standing all alone, kind of an odd-looking tree, sir, and seems to me, the guide said the place was called something like that. Say, Tom," to the nearest dragoon, "do you remember that Lone Tree where we camped when we were out hunting Tarleton?"

"Sure; in east Medford. There was a farmhouse across on the side of a hill. I got some buttermilk there."

"I want that what the guide called the place—Lone Tree?"

"Darned if I know, sergeant. Don't recollect hearin' the guide say anythin' 'bout that, but the woman at the house told me her place was called Lone Tree cottage—so I reckon he might."

"This was a chance worth trying. We will take the first turn to the left, and have a look at the place," I said. "Conroy, you and Tom ride ahead, and keep your eyes open."

I reached the hollow where the big tree stood, about midnight, but found little reward. The house on the hill had been burned to the ground. Near the tree, however, we discovered evidence of recent camp fires, one not yet cold, and apparently there had been quite a body of men camped there lately. Conroy manifested a torch, and scouted about, finally reporting:

"I don't know how many were here, sir, altogether, but there was a lot of horses picketed over near the creek. I reckon the last of them didn't leave until dark tonight, and they rode north toward the main road. There was maybe a dozen in that party."

We followed the general direction the fellows seemed to have taken, Conroy and I on foot, scanning the trail by aid of a pine knot. The dust lay thick on the clay road through the cut, where we had charged the foragers, and it was easy to see the band had turned east. There was but one conclusion possible; if this was Fagin's gang of outlaws, as I suspected, then they were either returning to their sand caves in Monmouth county after a raid, or else were starting forth on some new project near at hand. Whichever was true, Elmhurst lay in the direction taken. Determined to learn the truth, we pressed forward, riding rapidly, yet observing the precaution of keeping two scouts well in advance. It must have been nearly three o'clock when we reached the summit of the low hill within a few hundred yards of the house, and found the two scouts awaiting us.

My first glance across the ravine revealed the outlines of the house as it was, this illumination was not surprising, however, as the care of the wounded man would necessitate night watchers, while, no doubt, Claire would anticipate by reaching there before morning. All this flashed over me, as my eyes hastily surveyed the familiar surroundings. Then I became aware that the older scout was reporting.

"There's quite a bunch of horses picketed down there in the ravine, sir," he said, pointing toward the right.

"How many?"

"Oh, maybe twenty-five or thirty; Joe an' I couldn't get very close, as there's a couple of men on guard on top of the bank. A hundred feet down you can see 'em plain against the sky."

"What's what you saw a cattle herd?"

"No, sir," positively. "They're horses, picketed in line like a cavalry troop, and they've got their saddles on."

"What this all meant could not be guessed at, but there must be some scheme of devilry under way."

"Have either of you crossed the ravine?" I asked, endeavoring to reach some conclusion.

"Yes, sir, Joe did. He was up in the edge of the orchard."

"See any men?"

"Not a man, sir, outside," answered the other. "But I saw shadows against the curtains on that lower floor. I couldn't tell how many; they just come an' go, only they wasn't dressed alike."

"One thing was sufficiently certain—we could gain little information remaining where we were."

"Sergeant," I said, determining swiftly on a course of action, "take your men, dismounted, across the ravine, and into the orchard. Keep under cover, but get as close to the house as you can safely. Picket your horses back there beside the road."

"And you, sir?"

"I'll take Tom with me, and we'll circle that horse herd, and come up to the house from the rear. I want to discover where those fellows are, and what they are up to. See this whistle, sergeant?"

"Yes, sir."

"It gives a sharp, shrill blast. If I blow it twice, get your men inside the house instantly. I'll not sound it unless I need you at once. We'll wait here until you get across."

The disappeared into the black depths of the ravine, moving cautiously and with little noise. Tom and I plunged down the steep slope, feeling our way through the darkness, and moving to the right, toward where the scouts had indicated the horses were being herded. We skirted these, creeping along the opposite bank behind a fringe of bushes, certain that the darkness concealed our movements from the two men on guard.

We crossed fifty feet above, gained the top of the bank, and crawled down, sheltered from observation, until we were directly above the two guards. Feeling cautiously over, we could easily distinguish the black outlines on the hillside below.

One man was standing up, leaning against the trunk of a small tree, while the other was sitting on the ground, his head bent forward, and his hat drawn low over his eyes. Neither had uttered a sound, but as my eyes strained through the darkness I began to perceive details which awakened a new suspicion. The fellow standing up wore a cap and no coat, and his hands were clasped about a short, sawed-off gun. He had none of the appearance of the soldier, but the other man apparently was in uniform, although I could not distinguish his character. What instantly attracted my attention was the fact that his hands were evidently tied behind his back. If this was true then he was a prisoner, and the other had been stationed there to guard him, and not the horses. Tom perceived this as soon as I, for I felt his fingers grip my arm.

"Creep around the edge of the rock there," I said, pointing. "That will bring you at his back, and not more than five feet away. Can you do it?"

We nodded grimly.

"Leave your weapons here," I added, "and when you spring, get hold of his gun so he cannot fire. I'll cover him the instant you strike. Go on."

He unbuckled his belt, and crept along to the right, so noiselessly that even I, watching his snake-like movement, could hear no sound. The guard did not move his head, and the other remained motionless, his face bent almost to his knees. Down below the horses stamped restlessly, and switched their tails. Watching each motion like a hawk, I saw Tom dip over the crest, and worm his way down behind the rock. The he disappeared, until, as he cautiously arose to his feet, his head and shoulders emerged shadowy just beyond. Realizing he was ready, I got to my knees, gripping a pistol butt. Without a warning sound the dragoon leaped, his arms gripping the astounded sentinel with the hug of a bear. He gave utterance to one grunt, and then the barrel of my pistol was at his head.

"Not a word!" I said sternly. "Unbuckle his belt, Tom. Yes, take his gun. If he moves, or utters a sound, shoot him down."

I wheeled to face the other, who had lifted his head, and was staring at us through the darkness. He was no longer a mere shapeless shadow, but a slender, straight figure, and my heart gave a sudden throb.

"Who are you?" I asked sharply. "Eric Mortimer?"

"Yes," he answered, in evident surprise. "Do I know you?"

"No," and I cut the rope binding his ankles. "But I was searching for you. I am an officer of Maxwell's brigade; my name is Lawrence. Tell me first what has happened—why you are being held prisoner."

He stretched his cramped arms and legs, lifting his head as if he were as it was, this illumination was not surprising, however, as the care of the wounded man would necessitate night watchers, while, no doubt, Claire would anticipate by reaching there before morning. All this flashed over me, as my eyes hastily surveyed the familiar surroundings. Then I became aware that the older scout was reporting.

"There's quite a bunch of horses picketed down there in the ravine, sir," he said, pointing toward the right.

"How many?"

"Oh, maybe twenty-five or thirty; Joe an' I couldn't get very close, as there's a couple of men on guard on top of the bank. A hundred feet down you can see 'em plain against the sky."

"What's what you saw a cattle herd?"

"No, sir," positively. "They're horses, picketed in line like a cavalry troop, and they've got their saddles on."

"What this all meant could not be guessed at, but there must be some scheme of devilry under way."

"Have either of you crossed the ravine?" I asked, endeavoring to reach some conclusion.

"Yes, sir, Joe did. He was up in the edge of the orchard."

"See any men?"

"Not a man, sir, outside," answered the other. "But I saw shadows against the curtains on that lower floor. I couldn't tell how many; they just come an' go, only they wasn't dressed alike."

"One thing was sufficiently certain—we could gain little information remaining where we were."

"Sergeant," I said, determining swiftly on a course of action, "take your men, dismounted, across the ravine, and into the orchard. Keep under cover, but get as close to the house as you can safely. Picket your horses back there beside the road."

"And you, sir?"

"I'll take Tom with me, and we'll circle that horse herd, and come up to the house from the rear. I want to discover where those fellows are, and what they are up to. See this whistle, sergeant?"

"Yes, sir."

"It gives a sharp, shrill blast. If I blow it twice, get your men inside the house instantly. I'll not sound it unless I need you at once. We'll wait here until you get across."

The disappeared into the black depths of the ravine, moving cautiously and with little noise. Tom and I plunged down the steep slope, feeling our way through the darkness, and moving to the right, toward where the scouts had indicated the horses were being herded. We skirted these, creeping along the opposite bank behind a fringe of bushes, certain that the darkness concealed our movements from the two men on guard.

We crossed fifty feet above, gained the top of the bank, and crawled down, sheltered from observation, until we were directly above the two guards. Feeling cautiously over, we could easily distinguish the black outlines on the hillside below.

One man was standing up, leaning against the trunk of a small tree, while the other was sitting on the ground, his head bent forward, and his hat drawn low over his eyes. Neither had uttered a sound, but as my eyes strained through the darkness I began to perceive details which awakened a new suspicion. The fellow standing up wore a cap and no coat, and his hands were clasped about a short, sawed-off gun. He had none of the appearance of the soldier, but the other man apparently was in uniform, although I could not distinguish his character. What instantly attracted my attention was the fact that his hands were evidently tied behind his back. If this was true then he was a prisoner, and the other had been stationed there to guard him, and not the horses. Tom perceived this as soon as I, for I felt his fingers grip my arm.

"Creep around the edge of the rock there," I said, pointing. "That will bring you at his back, and not more than five feet away. Can you do it?"

We nodded grimly.

"Leave your weapons here," I added, "and when you spring, get hold of his gun so he cannot fire. I'll cover him the instant you strike. Go on."

He unbuckled his belt, and crept along to the right, so noiselessly that even I, watching his snake-like movement, could hear no sound. The guard did not move his head, and the other remained motionless, his face bent almost to his knees. Down below the horses stamped restlessly, and switched their tails. Watching each motion like a hawk, I saw Tom dip over the crest, and worm his way down behind the rock. The he disappeared, until, as he cautiously arose to his feet, his head and shoulders emerged shadowy just beyond. Realizing he was ready, I got to my knees, gripping a pistol butt. Without a warning sound the dragoon leaped, his arms gripping the astounded sentinel with the hug of a bear. He gave utterance to one grunt, and then the barrel of my pistol was at his head.

"Not a word!" I said sternly. "Unbuckle his belt, Tom. Yes, take his gun. If he moves, or utters a sound, shoot him down."

I wheeled to face the other, who had lifted his head, and was staring at us through the darkness. He was no longer a mere shapeless shadow, but a slender, straight figure, and my heart gave a sudden throb.

"Who are you?" I asked sharply. "Eric Mortimer?"

"Yes," he answered, in evident surprise. "Do I know you?"

"No," and I cut the rope binding his ankles. "But I was searching for you. I am an officer of Maxwell's brigade; my name is Lawrence. Tell me first what has happened—why you are being held prisoner."

He stretched his cramped arms and legs, lifting his head as if he were as it was, this illumination was not surprising, however, as the care of the wounded man would necessitate night watchers, while, no doubt, Claire would anticipate by reaching there before morning. All this flashed over me, as my eyes hastily surveyed the familiar surroundings. Then I became aware that the older scout was reporting.

"There's quite a bunch of horses picketed down there in the ravine, sir," he said, pointing toward the right.

"How many?"

"Oh, maybe twenty-five or thirty; Joe an' I couldn't get very close, as there's a couple of men on guard on top of the bank. A hundred feet down you can see 'em plain against the sky."

"What's what you saw a cattle herd?"

"No, sir," positively. "They're horses, picketed in line like a cavalry troop, and they've got their saddles on."

"What this all meant could not be guessed at, but there must be some scheme of devilry under way."

"Have either of you crossed the ravine?" I asked, endeavoring to reach some conclusion.

"Yes, sir, Joe did. He was up in the edge of the orchard."

"See any men?"

"Not a man, sir, outside," answered the other. "But I saw shadows against the curtains on that lower floor. I couldn't tell how many; they just come an' go, only they wasn't dressed alike."

"One thing was sufficiently certain—we could gain little information remaining where we were."

"Sergeant," I said, determining swiftly on a course of action, "take your men, dismounted, across the ravine, and into the orchard. Keep under cover, but get as close to the house as you can safely. Picket your horses back there beside the road."

"And you, sir?"

"I'll take Tom with me, and we'll circle that horse herd, and come up to the house from the rear. I want to discover where those fellows are, and what they are up to. See this whistle, sergeant?"

"Yes, sir."

"It gives a sharp, shrill blast. If I blow it twice, get your men inside the house instantly. I'll not sound it unless I need you at once. We'll wait here until you get across."

The disappeared into the black depths of the ravine, moving cautiously and with little noise. Tom and I plunged down the steep slope, feeling our way through the darkness, and moving to the right, toward where the scouts had indicated the horses were being herded. We skirted these, creeping along the opposite bank behind a fringe of bushes, certain that the darkness concealed our movements from the two men on guard.

We crossed fifty feet above, gained the top of the bank, and crawled down, sheltered from observation, until we were directly above the two guards. Feeling cautiously over, we could easily distinguish the black outlines on the hillside below.

One man was standing up, leaning against the trunk of a small tree, while the other was sitting on the ground, his head bent forward, and his hat drawn low over his eyes. Neither had uttered a sound, but as my eyes strained through the darkness I began to perceive details which awakened a new suspicion. The fellow standing up wore a cap and no coat, and his hands were clasped about a short, sawed-off gun. He had none of the appearance of the soldier, but the other man apparently was in uniform, although I could not distinguish his character. What instantly attracted my attention was the fact that his hands were evidently tied behind his back. If this was true then he was a prisoner, and the other had been stationed there to guard him, and not the horses. Tom perceived this as soon as I, for I felt his fingers grip my arm.

"Creep around the edge of the rock there," I said, pointing. "That will bring you at his back, and not more than five feet away. Can you do it?"

We nodded grimly.

"Leave your weapons here," I added, "and when you spring, get hold of his gun so he cannot fire. I'll cover him the instant you strike. Go on."

He unbuckled his belt, and crept along to the right, so noiselessly that even I, watching his snake-like movement, could hear no sound. The guard did not move his head, and the other remained motionless, his face bent almost to his knees. Down below the horses stamped restlessly, and switched their tails. Watching each motion like a hawk, I saw Tom dip over the crest, and worm his way down behind the rock. The he disappeared, until, as he cautiously arose to his feet, his head and shoulders emerged shadowy just beyond. Realizing he was ready, I got to my knees, gripping a pistol butt. Without a warning sound the dragoon leaped, his arms gripping the astounded sentinel with the hug of a bear. He gave utterance to one grunt, and then the barrel of my pistol was at his head.

"Not a word!" I said sternly. "Unbuckle his belt, Tom. Yes, take his gun. If he moves, or utters a sound, shoot him down."

I wheeled to face the other, who had lifted his head, and was staring at us through the darkness. He was no longer a mere shapeless shadow, but a slender, straight figure, and my heart gave a sudden throb.

"Who are you?" I asked sharply. "Eric Mortimer?"

"Yes," he answered, in evident surprise. "Do I know you?"

"No," and I cut the rope binding his ankles. "But I was searching for you. I am an officer of Maxwell's brigade; my name is Lawrence. Tell me first what has happened—why you are being held prisoner."

He stretched his cramped arms and legs, lifting his head as if he were as it was, this illumination was not surprising, however, as the care of the wounded man would necessitate night watchers, while, no doubt, Claire would anticipate by reaching there before morning. All this flashed over me, as my eyes hastily surveyed the familiar surroundings. Then I became aware that the older scout was reporting.

"There's quite a bunch of horses picketed down there in the ravine, sir," he said, pointing toward the right.

"How many?"

"Oh, maybe twenty-five or thirty; Joe an' I couldn't get very close, as there's a couple of men on guard on top of the bank. A hundred feet down you can see 'em plain against the sky."

"What's what you saw a cattle herd?"

"No, sir," positively. "They're horses, picketed in line like a cavalry troop, and they've got their saddles on."

"What this all meant could not be guessed at, but there must be some scheme of devilry under way."

"Have either of you crossed the ravine?" I asked, endeavoring to reach some conclusion.

"Yes, sir, Joe did. He was up in the edge of the orchard."

Who Will Win

The Magnificent Library

AND

"Macey" Sectional Book Cases

IN THE

Great Library Contest

See the Display in W. N. Leche's Window Beginning Monday.

A number of Connellsville's progressive business men make this offer possible. This magnificent library, encased in Sectional Book Cases, will be given away FREE, by vote, to the most popular organization, or institution, public or private, securing the greatest number of votes during the contest, which opens this day, May 3, 1912, and ends August 6, 1912, at 12 o'clock noon, when all voting will cease.

Any school, public or parochial, Sunday School, Church, Hospital, Lodge, or Organization or Institution, public or private, is eligible to this Great Library Contest.

With every Five Cent Purchase or payment on account a ticket will be given by a number of enterprising business houses of Connellsville. On every ticket the amount of purchase and the number of votes will be given, the purchaser will write on the ticket the name of the institution or organization they desire to vote for and then will deposit the ticket in the ballot boxes at E. W. Horner's, E. Dunn's or W. N. Leche's.

THE DAILY COURIER will announce the standing of the contestants weekly (Wednesday's.) The following business men and a representative from each organization competing have vested in them full power to award the library at the close of contest and to supervise the count of votes which is in charge of K. K. Kramer, 201 Title & Trust Building, during the contest.

REMEMBER

Votes Are Given FREE With All Cash Purchases or Payments on Account by the Following Merchants:

AARON'S,

Furniture, Carpets, Rugs and Stoves. Complete Home Furnishings.

ANCHOR GROCERY,

P. H. Beighley Prop. Fresh Supplies a Specialty 418 N. Pittsburg St. Both Phones.

BARKLEY'S PHARMACY,

129 S. Pittsburg Street.

A. W. BISHOP,

Jeweler, B. & O. R. R. Watch Inspector. 107 West Main St. Tri-State Phone 312.

G. W. BRICKMAN & CO.,

Staple and Fancy Groceries 302 North Pittsburg St. Both Phones.

A. A. CLARKE, PH. G.,

Druggist, corner North Pittsburg street and North Alley.

COLLINS' DRUG STORE,

L. B. Collins, Prop. Prescriptions a Specialty Soda Water, Rieck's Ice Cream, fresh daily, brick and bulk. 117 S. Pittsburg Street.

J. R. DAVIDSON COMPANY,

The Grocers 103 West Main St. Bell Phone 155, Tri-State Phone 141.

E. DUNN,

Dry Goods and Carpets. 119-121-123 North Pittsburg St.

EAST END GROCERY,

302 East Fairview avenue. Both Phones.

GLOBE THEATRE,

Save the special Library Coupons issued by this Theatre. 211 N. Pittsburg St.

HOOVER & BAILEY,

Staple and Fancy Groceries 267 East Main street.

E. W. HORNER,

Tailor, Clothier, Hatter. Furniture, Title & Trust Building.

THE HORNER-CROWLEY CO.,

Limited, Dealers in Shoes Regal Shoes, $3.50 to $5.50. 130 N. Pittsburg Street.

H. O. KEAGY,

The Windsor Pharmacy South Pittsburg and Green streets.

K. K. KRAMER,

Real Estate and Insurance. 201 Title & Trust Bldg. Both Phones.

W. N. LECHE,

Dry Goods and Notions, Ladies' Tailored Garments. 105 West Main Street. Tri-State Phone 110.

T. J. REYNOLDS,

Staple and Fancy Groceries, 402 South Pittsburg St. Both Phones.

J. M. SEMBOWER,

Staple and Fancy Groceries. 202 South Pittsburg St. Both Phones.

WAVERLY SPECIAL

AUTO LUBRICATION WITHOUT CARBON OIL